OBITUARIES.

Saint John's River Conference.

CLARK POLLEY was born in the town of Burn, N. J., November 5, 1812; was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church at Danville, Conn., in 1827. He was received into the New Jersey Conference in April, 1848. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Waugh at Haddonsfield, N. J., in April, 1850, and elder by Bishop Janes at Trenton, in April, 1852. He was subsequently transferred to the Kentucky Conference, where he labored until March, 1865, when he was granted a certificate of location, which he held until 1868, when he was received into the Providence Conference, and transferred by Bishop Clark to the Tennessee Conference and appointed to the Shelbyville District, where his health failed, and he was transferred to the Florida Conference by Bishop Wiley in 1875. In consequence of his weak physical condition Brother Polley's work in the Florida Conference was confined principally to the neighborhood of his own home at New Berlin, until the session of the Conference in 1881, when he was appointed to the Saint John's River District, which he served for the full term of four years, to the general satisfaction of both preachers and people. He was subsequently appointed to Chaseville, his own home, where he labored for one year, when, in consequence of impaired health, he was granted a superannuate relation at the session of the Conference in 1886. When the final stroke came it seemed to be revealed to him as the last. When the remedies, such as he had often used in similar attacks, were offered him he said, "No, it is no use, I am going now;" and then, bidding farewell to his beloved and loving daughter, who had so faithfully ministered to him in his declining days, and to others at his bedside, he closed his eyes on earth.

Mississippi Conference.

ELIJAH HARRIS was a native of Alabama; moved to Mississippi in 1860 or 1861. In 1886 he joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. During the years of his ministry with us he served very acceptably the following charges: Vernal, China Grove, and Fayette Circuits. At Fayette he closed his ministry with great success. Brother Harris was much beloved by white and colored. On the morning of December 11, 1890, he passed through the valley of the shadow of death.

Texas Conference.

HENRY JACOB DYER was born in 1862 near Clarksville, Tex. He obtained a limited education in the public schools of the State. During the year 1880 he was licensed to preach. He was used as a supply in 1887 at Brookston, but at the following session of the Conference joined the traveling connection; was ordained a deacon by Bishop Bowman and appointed to Marion Circuit. Here he served two years. On this work there were about two hundred converted and nearly three hundred added to the Church. Brother Dyer was a gifted singer and a forcible and earnest preacher. He was taken sick before Conference, and was appointed to Jefferson Circuit, but did not live to get there. He died a soldier.

SAMUEL JOHNSON was born in Rockbridge County, Va., November 28, 1849. He joined the traveling connection in 1876. In 1885 he was transferred from the Little Rock to the Texas Conference. His first work in the Texas Conference was Mineola and Quitman, where he served two years. Next the Conference sent him to Palestine, where he served three years. Brother Johnson died at Marshall, Tex., November 15, 1890, where he was appointed January, 1890, and hoped to do a grand work for the Lord. He died as he had lived—a bold soldier for Christ.

PAUL DOUGLAS was born in La Grange, Ga., July 16, 1838. Had he lived one month and two days longer he would have been fifty-three years of age. In the spring of 1864 Brother Douglas was happily converted. Two years later he joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, and shortly thereafter he received his first license to preach. He was ordained to deacon's orders January, 1873, by Bishop Wiley, who appointed him to Jefferson, Tex., where scores of sinners were converted through his preaching. He next went to Saint Paul's Church, Galveston. From there he went to Trinity Church, Houston; then to Mineola and Quitman, Hempstead, Tyler, Texarkana, and Clarksville. In 1887–88 he was again appointed to Jefferson. He ended his very faithful ministerial career at Huntsville, 1889 and a part of 1890. During the nineteen years in which he traveled over Texas and preached Christ and him crucified to all classes of people he invariably practiced what he preached. He never was absent from an Annual Conference session, but always present to meet his bishop, his brethren, and to represent and to defend the Church and people he left behind. His reports were always full and gratifying. He was never absent from his District nor Quarterly Conferences, but met all these and did his duty manfully. He died at his post. He built Trinity Church, Houston, and otherwise improved every charge he ever held.

CHARLES A. CURRY was born July 27, 1865, and died March 3, 1890. He was converted when a boy of thirteen years, and lived a consistent Christian until his death. He was licensed to preach at fifteen years of age, and continued to preach until it pleased the great Head of the Church of the first-born to call him to his eternal reward. He was admitted into the Texas Conference on trial in 1886 at Huntsville. He served the following charges: Honey Grove, Blossom and Prairie, and Bryan Circuit, where he died thirty-four days after his appointment. He was married to Miss Susan Steward April 4, 1887.

Mexico Conference.

EVERARDO CASTILLO was born in the town of Zacualtipan, State of Hidalgo, in 1864. In 1883 there lived in Zacualtipan a faithful colporteur who, coming to know that the young tailor was fond of reading, made him a present of several tracts, and at last sold him a copy of the Holy Bible. The perusal of these works, and especially of the word of God, soon convinced Brother Castillo that the religion which until then he had professed was not true Christianity, and he soon came to accept fully and enthusiastically the doctrines of evangelical Christianity. It happened that about that time a benevolent brother in the United States had presented to our mission several thousand New Testaments, stipulating that they should be gratuitously distributed in out-of-the-way places and among families that as yet had not had the opportunity of listening to the Gospel. Naturally Brother Barker thought of the newly converted tailor of Zacualtipan, and he engaged him to travel among the villages and farming communities of the State of Hidalgo, and especially such places as had not been visited by the colporteur. Brother Castillo gladly accepted the commission, and in the early part of 1884 spent several weeks in this work, walking, perhaps, more than three hundred miles on foot with his load of Testaments on his back, and visiting a great number of the most inaccessible villages of the State. In 1887 Brother Castillo had charge of the congregation in El Chico, and founded the school there which has since met with such marked success. The next year he worked successfully in Real del Monte, and in 1889 was placed over our congregation in Cortazar, in the State of Guanajuato. The previous year he had been admitted on trial in our Annual Conference, and at its last session was received into full connection and ordained deacon by Bishop Mallalieu. In June, 1889, he married Miss Victoria Lopez. The sickness which caused the death of Brother Castillo lasted several months, during which he scarcely suspended his activity in the cause of Christ, although frequently his bodily sufferings were intense. On March 31, 1890, Brother Castillo departed this life to await in the bliss of paradise his final reward. He was a faithful worker, and, although his Christian and ministerial course was short, undoubtedly the unfading crown of his heavenly glory will not be without bright stars.

Kansas Conference.

L. D. Price was born January 10, 1820, in Sandisville, Berkshire County, Mass., and died in Oskaloosa, Kan., November 24, 1890. In 1842 he entered the Michigan Conference on trial, and at the end of two years was admitted to full connection and ordained deacon by Bishop Hamline. Two years after he was ordained elder by Bishop Janes. When the Conference was divided he fell into the Detroit Conference, from which he was transferred to the Kansas Conference in 1859. In 1844 he married Hannah Belden. After her death he married Lucy A. Shaw. The following are the appointments which he filled: Medina, Jackson, Port Huron, Mount Clemens, Romeo, Pontiac, Lafayette Street, Detroit; supernumerary, Trenton, Iroquois Indian Mission, Dexter, and Iroquois Indian Mission again. At the close of this pastorate he was transferred to the Kansas Conference. His appointments in the Kansas Conference were: Nebraska City, White Cloud, presiding elder Leavenworth District, Bible work in Northern Kansas, Oskaloosa Circuit, agent of the Jefferson County Bible Society. From that date he was a superannuate of the Conference.

Missouri Conference.

Joseph S. Barwick, D.D., was born in Maryland, September 22, 1815, and died in Linneus, Mo., October 5, 1890. His death was triumphant, full of hope and victory. This eminent servant of God spent fifty-one years in the active ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was a graduate of Asbury University. He joined the Indiana Conference in 1837, and filled the following charges: Mount Vernon, Evansville, Greenfield, Knightstown, Indianapolis, and Belleville. Soon after reaching Belleville he was appointed teacher in Asbury University. In 1841 he served the Rising Sun charge; afterward Newtown, also Greensburg. From 1844 to 1850 he taught in various institutions. In 1850 he was appointed Latin teacher in the Female College, Jacksonville, Ill. He continued teaching for ten years. In 1861 he was appointed to Havana, Ill. In 1862 he became chaplain of the 85th Illinois Infantry. This service included the march to the sea under General Sherman. At the close of the war he resumed teaching and preaching until 1866, when he was transferred to the Missouri and Arkansas Conference to take charge of the North Missouri Collegiate Institute. In 1867 he was elected president of Lewis College at Glasgow, Mo., serving two years. In 1869 he was appointed to Saint Joseph, afterward to Maryville, La., Shelbina and Shelbyville. In 1878 he was appointed presiding elder of the Chillicothe District, serving three years; then appointed to Shelbina, Macon, Utica, Linneus, Hale. In March, 1889, he was granted a superannuate relation. His preaching was of a high order, and none wearied while sitting under his ministrations. Brother Barwick leaves a wife who has stood by him since 1877 as a true and faithful companion. His services in Linneus, where he lived for more than five years, were a benediction not only to his own denomination but to all the Churches.

Nathan Cordray was born in Muskingum County, O., September 4, 1828, and died in great peace near North Salem, Mo., May 24, 1890. When but twenty-one he was licensed to preach the Gospel, and admitted to the traveling connection in 1852. He married, in October, 1853, Miss Mary Elizabeth Boyd. He was ordained as deacon at Saint Louis, October 14. 1855, by Bishop Simpson, and elder, May 2, 1859, by Bishop Scott, at Saint Joseph, Mo. He served the following charges: Putnamville, Richland, Warsaw, Double-Branch, Springfork, Milan, Saint Catherine, Greencastle, Unionville, Saint John, Bucklin, Kiddville, North Salem. In 1873 he was placed on the list of supernumerary preachers; in 1878 he was restored to the effective and appointed to Bridge Creek, but the following year he was again made supernumerary, in 1883 he was appointed to Kirksville Circuit; 1884, La Plata, one year, which closed his effective work. Brother Cordray lived, moved, and breathed in the very atmosphere of prayer. His last words to the sorrowing ones at his bedside were, "Why don't you pray?" He was true in all the relations of life. He was loyal to his Church and country. In the days of civil strife that tried men's souls he swerved not from the path of duty. During the early part of his ministry the death-angel visited the home in the father's absence, and when he returned the eyes of his first-born were closed to earth. After retiring to his farm he became the trusty friend and wise counselor of his pastor.

Thomas Evans was born April 14, 1836, in Chesterville, Morrow County, O. Early in life he united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. In May, 1857, he was licensed to preach. In 1858 he came to Missouri, and in 1859 was employed as a supply. He was received on trial in the Missouri Conference in 1860, and appointed to Athens, Grove Circuit. This being at the commencement of the war, he withdrew from the Conference and went into the army. In March, 1876, he was re-admitted on trial. Since that time he has served the Church in the following places: Third Fork Circuit, Pickering, West Nodaway, Lindley, Eagleville, Cainsville, Pattonsburg, Bethany Circuit, Stewartsville Circuit, Chillicothe Circuit, Spickards, and at the last Conference was appointed to Ravenna Circuit. He was early on the ground, filling his appointments, apparently in better health than in the previous years. November 17 was the time of holding his third quarterly meeting at Ravenna. He left his home in Princeton on Thursday afternoon to begin a series of meetings. He preached Thursday and Friday nights, visiting during the day on Friday, speaking often of how well he was. At night he preached with unusual liberty to a large congregation. As he retired at night he said to the family: "I may not awake in time for breakfast, and if not please awake me." About 6 A. M. Saturday morning they called, but no answer came. They entered his room to awake him, but found him lying in an unconscious condition, he having received a stroke of paralysis. His family was at once summoned. But to all appeals for recognition from loved ones no response came. Thus he lay, unconscious until Sunday night at eight o'clock, when, without a struggle, he passed away. The funeral services were held in the Methodist Episcopal church at Ravenna.

Saint Louis Conference.

AARON H. HEINLEIN was born in Guernsey County, O., January 19, 1838, and died at the residence of J. A. McCullah, in Marionville, Mo., June 22, 1890. Brother Heinlein was converted at the age of fifteen. In 1859 he married Miss Jemima Downey, of Cumberland, O. In August, 1862, he enlisted in the Fourth Indiana Cavalry and served his country as a soldier until the war closed. In the spring of 1866 he came to Missouri and joined the Missouri and Arkansas Conference. He served the following charges: Ironton and Pilot Knob, Lagrange and Canton, and Memphis Circuit. The Saint Louis Conference having been formed, he was transferred to it at the end of his term on the Memphis Circuit, and stationed at Liberty Street Church, Kansas City, then Smithton charge, Boonville and Pilot Grove, Nevada, Clinton, Ohio Street, Sedalia; Independence, Lamar, Clinton again, and one year ago he was sent to Marionville, his last appointment. He was taken sick June 13, and after nine days of intense suffering fell asleep in Jesus. In all his ministerial life Brother Heinlein was faithful to all the interests of the Church committed to his care.

WILLIAM DE MOTTE was born in Rising Sun, Cecil County, Md., February 27, 1817, and died at the home of his son, S. M. De Motte, in Kansas City, Kan., July 28, 1890. He was married twice. He was converted on board of ship on the west coast of Africa. He was received on trial by the Missouri Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in 1857, was ordained deacon by Bishop Robert Paine, September 18, 1859. He was admitted into the Missouri and Arkansas Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church at its session in Saint Joseph, Mo., in March, 1865. At the same Conference he was ordained elder by Bishop Scott. At the division of the Conference and the formation of the Saint Louis Conference he was transferred to the Saint Louis Conference. In the two Conferences he filled the following appointments in the order named: Independence, Pleasant Hill, Tipton, presiding elder of Rolla District, High Point, Knobnoster, Boonville and Pilot Grove, High Point, Windsor, and Humansville. In the spring of 1886 he superannuated. His last attendance at Conference was at Sedalia, in March, 1888. He was deeply pious and very social. He was possessed of a meek and humble spirit. His devotion to Christ and the Church was deep and abiding. His preaching ability was above mediocrity; indeed, we have heard him at times when he would rise to the heights of sublime eloquence.

Louisiana Conference.

SAMUEL OSBORNE was one of the pioneers who withstood opposition in the evil day. He was born in North Carolina, and died, March, 1890, in the sixty-fifth year of his age. His career as a Christian minister is sublime and deserves honor. The Conference is now deprived of a father, but heaven has gained a jewel. His dying testimony to Brother Walker, who stood by his bedside, was: "Tell my brethren I have cut my way through. Death is doing his work on this frame, but I am dying a pure man of God."

West Texas Conference.

WASHINGTON GOODWIN joined the West Texas Conference in 1876, and from that time was a true and faithful minister until the day of his death. He was appointed by Bishop Walden from the Conference which met at San Antonio, in 1890, to the Columbus Circuit. He went to the work to which he was assigned soon after the Conference adjourned. Shortly after his arrival he was called on business to his former field of labor, and while there was stricken with malarial fever, but returned to Columbus, and remained a while with Rev. Seborn Smith and family. While there he was very sick. He was asked by Sister Smith as to whether he was willing and ready to go should the Lord call him away. His answer was, "Yes, indeed, I am!" Shortly after he expired, in full triumph of living faith.

PETER GANT.—[Obituary not received.]

Virginia Conference.

JAMES MCK. BREWINGTON was born in Salisbury, Md., August 5, 1852, and died at Mount Vernon, Md., December 23, 1890. He was admitted on trial in the Wilmington Conference March 10, 1876, Bishop Levi Scott presiding, and was appointed to Stockton and Chincoteague Islands. The next year he was sent to Royal Oak, Md. In 1878 he was admitted into full connection, ordained deacon, and appointed to Kent Circuit. In 1879 he was sent to Queenstown. In 1880 he was ordained elder by Bishop Andrews and received a supernumerary relation, which relation he held for two years, after which he withdrew and joined the Virginia Conference, and was stationed at the Tabernacle Church in Norfolk, Va. While here he gave a great deal of his attention to the reformation of the drinking class. His desire was to build a home for the outcasts of the city, and he had rented several houses to accommodate the inmates, but he never realized the object for which he hoped.

D. W. HILL died at the parsonage on Augusta Circuit July 22, 1890. He was admitted on trial in the Conference at Manassas, March 11, 1882, and appointed to Pocahontas Circuit, which was the half of the circuit he traveled the previous year. At the next Conference he was appointed to Forest Hill Circuit, which charge he served efficiently for three years, after which he was appointed to Augusta and Sherando, where he made so great an impression that the people asked his return from year to year, until he was appointed the fifth year. At the opening of this year's work he was confined by his last sickness. He was a genuine Methodist preacher, devoted to God and his work, always keeping the rules of Discipline. He was successful in winning souls to God, building churches and parsonages, always doing good in all possible ways, noble, genuine, and true.

JASPER JAY RUMBURG was born in Montgomery County, Va., April 15, 1851, and died on Tuesday morning, September 2, 1890, at Roanoke City. He was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1869. He was married to Miss Mary Davis in 1874, admitted on trial into the Virginia Conference in 1882, and served Fincastle (now Eagle Rock Circuit), Lewisburg Circuit, Manassas, and Old Point Comfort. At the Conference held in Alexandria, Va., he was appointed financial agent for the Roanoke Seminary. He was taken with typhoid fever, which resulted in his death. The sickness of his wife and many disappointments seemed to foil all his plans. He died in the fight a loyal Methodist, but with bitter disappointment. He was a good preacher, a strong thinker, sociable, and of a generous spirit. His death was peaceful, and he rests in hope of a golden dawn.

Southern German Conference.

CARL BIEL was born July 21, 1825, in Norden, East Friesland, Germany. In 1851 he came to Texas, where he tried to make his living on a small farm. He was truly converted under the administration of Brother Edward Schneider, and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in 1857. In 1859 he followed the call to the ministry, and was sent to Galveston, where he worked faithfully. During the civil war he had charge on several missions, and at last, traveling as a presiding elder, he got acquainted with the poor condition and the needs of the German missions in the Church, South. Expecting better assistance for the German work in connection with the Methodist Episcopal Church, he left the Church, South, in 1866, and joined the Texas Conference of our Church, then organized by Bishop Simpson, in Houston, Tex. For eleven years he did the work of a minister and presiding elder in our Church truly and faithfully. In 1878 his health failed, and he was obliged to take a superannuated relation. Since then the Lord kept his servant under a heavy course of sickness. Unable to use his limbs, his beloved wife and children were obliged to nurse and nourish him like a helpless child. Now the trembling limbs of his feeble body rest till the Lord shall awaken him to new life.

E. Schneider was born May 8, 1811, in Canton Basel, Switzerland, and entered his heavenly rest December 7, 1890. Brother Schneider never had the privilege of a special preparation for the ministry, but he was a witness of the saving grace of God by word and example, and thus was a winner of souls for his dear Master. He came to Texas in 1844, and four years later, after having experienced the saving grace of the Lord Jesus, united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. In 1850 he was admitted on trial in Conference. Here he labored with much zeal and self-denial until 1866, and was the founder of several missions among the Germans. In January, 1867, he joined the Texas Conference of our own Church, which was then organized at Houston, Tex., by Bishop Simpson. He received Brenham as his appointment, where he did pioneer work and founded the Brenham Mission. In 1874 his health failed, and he was obliged to ask for a superannuated relation. God spared him his wife yet sixteen years, with whom he shared the trials and pleasures of matrimonial life for fifty years. Although his strength continued to fail, he preached whenever he had an opportunity. Thus this servant of Christ lived humble and willing to serve others till it pleased his Master to call him to the rest prepared in heaven. Three miles from Page, near the church, his remains were laid to rest December 2, 1890.

William Pfæffle was born in the Grand Dukedom of Baden, Germany, September 10, 1831, and when still a young man came to America. He was converted under the ministration of Rev. George Mulfinger, who sent him, in April, 1854, as assistant minister to Waukegan, Ill. From this time until his death he was continually engaged in earnest work as a preacher of the Gospel. Vigilant fidelity, untiring tenacity, and unusual and uniform success have marked his ministerial career from beginning to end. A large portion of our North-west bears today the well-marked imprints of his work, and his energy did not diminish when he was called to engage in his Master's vineyard in this our most beautiful Southern State, Texas. Untiring industry, carefulness, and fidelity mark also his seventeen years' work in the German Southern Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. As the founder of and indefatigable worker for Blinn Memorial College he has reared up an abiding monument to his memory, notwithstanding the fact that said college bears the honored name of another most worthy friend and patron. Keenly feeling our deep bereavement, we often ask ourselves, "Who shall fill the place of our Brother Pfæffle?" But thanks be to God for the assurance that although the Master calleth his workmen the work shall still continue.

South Kansas Conference.

Joseph Finley Rhoades, of the South Kansas Conference, died June 9, 1890, from injuries received by being thrown from a wagon-bridge on the afternoon of June 8. Brother Rhoades and wife were on their way to a wedding. While driving across Lightning Creek Bridge the horse became frightened and backed off the bridge and over an embankment. Sister Rhoades jumped from the buggy and escaped unhurt. Brother Rhoades went down with the buggy. One arm was broken and the left side of his head bruised. After twelve hours of suffering his spirit took its flight. Brother Rhoades was born in Montgomery County, O., on February 1, 1844. He was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church in Raysville, O., at the age of fourteen years. He enlisted in the 34th Ohio Zouaves on February 23, 1864, and was mustered out of service on May 23, 1865. He married Miss Kate M. Sisson on May 23, 1867, at Gallipolis, O. He was licensed to preach by the Quarterly Conference of Clifton Charge, West Virginia Conference. The North Indiana Conference at the session held at Muncie, in 1872, admitted him on trial, and he was ordained deacon by Bishop Foster on April 5, 1874, and elder by Bishop Harris, on March 26, 1876. He was a member of the North Indiana Conference twelve years, serving the following charges: Huntsville (now Trenton), Perkinsville, Hagerstown, Fortville, Greenfield, and Portland. On account of his wife's health he was transferred to the South Kansas Conference by Bishop Foss, and stationed at Chanute three years; Garnett three years, and was appointed to Girard by Bishop Foss, on March 17, 1890. Brother Rhoades was an earnest preacher and a faithful pastor. He was intensely devoted and consecrated to his work. He captivated the children and the young people, and won the esteem of every one. All business houses in Girard were closed on the day of his funeral, and an immense congregation of people gathered in and around the church to pay respect to the memory of their fallen pastor.

Martin V. Robbins was born on December 16, 1839, in Sangamon County, Ill., and died May 30, 1890, at Longton, Kan. At the age of sixteen he was converted and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. September 19, 1858, he married Hannah E. Ayers. As a local preacher he did good work in Illinois until 1871, when he removed to South-west Missouri, where he spent one and a half years as a supply in the Saint Louis Conference. In 1875 he removed to Bourbon County, Kan. In 1880 he was employed as a supply in the South Kansas Conference, and appointed to the Mulberry Grove charge. In 1881 he was admitted on trial in the South Kansas Conference, and re-appointed to Mulberry Grove charge. After this he served the following pastoral charges: Osawatomie, Leroy, Mount Ida, Hartford, Toronto, and Coyville. At the last Conference he was appointed by Bishop Foss to Longton charge. At the end of two and a half months of faithful services on this charge he was transferred from the Church militant to the Church triumphant. Brother Robbins was ordained deacon by Bishop Bowman in 1878, and ordained elder by Bishop Ninde in 1885. He was a faithful minister of the Lord. Many persons were converted through his influence, and many beautiful church edifices were erected on the charges he served.

Boyd Lowe.—[Obituary not received.]

Central Pennsylvania Conference.

Benjamin H. Crever was born in Carlisle, Pa., March 16, 1817, and died in Hanover, Pa., April 15, 1890. In 1840, at the Georgetown session of the Baltimore Conference, he was received on trial. His appointment was to a six-week circuit in Virginia, as second assistant to the Rev. J. C. Lyon. He then began a life of Christian and ministerial usefulness not often equaled and but very rarely surpassed. The marked success of his early efforts as a revivalist prophesied large harvesting in maturer years. His second charge, Christiansburg Circuit, Va., 1841, was the scene of great success. Here he began his work as a temperance orator, a distinction he ever afterward deserved as he enjoyed. In the third year of his ministry he was appointed one of the five ministers to the City Station, Baltimore. At the close of this year he was united in marriage to Miss Susan C. Folensbee. In 1844 Brother Crever returned to his native State, by appointment to Lewisburg. Here he labored earnestly and with gratifying success until, in 1846, impaired health, the result of overwork, compelled a cessation for a time of his pastoral labors. Congenial and profitable employment was found in the organization and conduct of a school in Wilton, where the services and experiences of his accomplished wife proved of great value. Here he conceived the idea—a most happy one surely—of founding a denominational school under Conference supervision. Soon after Williamsport Dickinson Seminary came into being. The Rev. Thomas Bowman, now the venerated senior bishop of our Church, then residing near Berwick, Pa., was, at Mr. Crever's own urgent solicitation, named for the responsible position of principal, himself serving in an associate capacity. He resumed the pastorate in 1850, and was successively appointed to Warrior's Mark, Jersey Shore, and Lewistown. In these charges five years of service, crowned with much fruit, justified the wisdom of his appointment. From Lewistown he went to Baltimore, where he served North Baltimore and Caroline Street churches four years with distinguished success. With the formation of the East Baltimore Conference Brother Crever received an appointment in its bounds to Cumberland, Md. His next appointment was Frederick City. This, as the sequel proved, was a most eventful field. Dr. John Lanahan, then presiding elder, with characteristic keenness, appointed him as an emergency man to the pastorate at Winchester, Va. The object of Dr. Crever's appointment, the retention of the property and the establishment of the Methodist Episcopal Church, was fully accomplished. In 1866 he was appointed to the charge of the Carlisle District. When, at the end of two years, he was appointed to Northumberland District, the evidences of his success were substantial and numerous. At this session the Central Pennsylvania Conference was created, and the East Baltimore Conference ceased to be. Dr. Crever was chosen one of the delegates to the General Conference, which proved most salutary to his health, which was again giving signs of failing. He was next appointed to Bloomsburg, where he labored two years, and then, realizing the necessity for relaxation, in 1872 he removed with his family to south-western Minnesota, where he did real pioneer work. His next appointment in our Conference was Mifflinville Circuit, where he spent a year in effective work. Feeling inadequate to the work of his next appointment, he secured a change of relation and spent the year associated with his son-in-law in Harrisburg, teaching. From the Conference in 1877 he went to Liverpool, where in two years he built a church and otherwise improved the charge. Watsontown and Montandon, his next charge, was also the scene of skillful and efficient work. Emporium Circuit, 1881–83, followed by a full pastoral term of three years at Petersburg, closed his effective ministry, for in 1886 he asked and received a superannuated relation. In 1889 his son-in-law, with whom he made his home, was appointed to Hanover. There he occasionally preached, to the delight and profit of those who heard him. This privilege was not often enjoyed, however, for his health gradually failed until on May 26, 1890, he took to his bed, whence he was translated April 15 following to the long-anticipated rest and home in heaven. As a preacher his ability was marked. He loved to preach. It was the passion of his life. His sermons were always distinguished for their precision of thought, elevation of style, rich spiritual tone, and remarkable unction. His life illustrates the abiding fame that crowns perseverance and loyalty. The secret of the regard in which he was held is expressed in the word "sincerity." Not a "double-minded" man, he was neither ambiguous nor equivocal in word or act. The Church was never in doubt as to either his opinions or purposes. His death was singularly peaceful and triumphant. Strong the faith, bright the hope, unshaken the trust with which he awaited his Master's summons.

JOHN MOORHEAD was born near Waynesborough, Franklin County, Pa., January 4, 1814, and died in Mount Union, Huntingdon County, Pa., July 16, 1890. He commenced his work as a traveling preacher in 1840, and pursued it for ten years as a single man. In 1850 he married Miss Elizabeth Sweeny. The appointments of Brother Moorhead have been as follows: Baltimore Conference—Alleghany, Licking Creek, Concord, Warrior's Mark, Wrightsville, Shippensburg, Caroline Street, Baltimore; Berkeley Circuit, Milton Circuit, Northumberland, Berwick, Bloomsburg, Jersey Shore. East Baltimore Conference—Penn's Valley, Lewistown Circuit, Manor Hill, Carlisle Circuit, Birmingham, Woodberry, Petersburg. Central Pennsylvania Conference—Petersburg, Mount Union, Selinsgrove, Shickshinny, Espy, and Light Street, Mercersburg; supernumerary; superannuate. Thus he rounded out a full half-century in the traveling connection, forty-one consecutive years of which were spent in the active effective work of the ministry. In all these twenty-five different charges Brother Moorhead was never known to neglect his work; and in all of them it is safe to say that souls were led to Christ, and in some of them great revivals attended his labors. Brother Moorhead was a man of decided character. His convictions were clear, the result of thought, and he did not hesitate to express them on proper occasions, but he was not obtrusive nor offensive. He was well-informed in theology and in the polity of the Church, and loved and defended them with zeal and fidelity. He was experienced in the things of God, and taught them as one who knew whereof he spoke. He was not scholarly—he never pretended to be; but he was forcible and stirring, somewhat inclined to the Sinaitic side of truth; but on occasions he could melt sinners into tears and rouse saints into hallelujahs by the touching story of a Saviour's love.

JOHN KLINE FISHER was born at Berne, Pa., June 1, 1850, and died at Lebanon, Pa., June 18, 1890. February 1, 1877, Brother Fisher was married to Miss Sallie E. Gettell, of Lebanon, Pa. In the spring of 1882 he applied for admission and was heartily welcomed into the itinerant ministry, and became a member of the Central Pennsylvania Conference. His appointments were as follows, namely: Town Hill, Conyngham, Gordon, Shippensburg. Of Brother Fisher it would be difficult to speak in terms too warmly and strongly eulogistic. As a preacher he was eminently thoughtful, scriptural, and practical; as a pastor, sympathetic, winning, and skillful. He strongly and permanently impressed the people. During the winter of 1889–90, while in the midst of a gracious revival in his charge, he suffered an attack of "la grippe" which left him in an enfeebled condition, and pulmonary consumption speedily developed. However, he attended the Conference at Carlisle, in March last, and notwithstanding the fears of his friends returned hopefully to his charge, greatly desiring to continue his work among the people he so much loved. But the close of his earthly labors was manifestly approaching. He preached his last sermon on Sabbath, April 20.

New England Southern Conf.

Frederic C. Newell began the earthly life at Crystal Lake, in the town of Ellington, Conn., August 21, 1836. His celestial life began April 4, 1891, at Staffordville, Conn. He was married to Miss Jane P. Slater, of Somers, November 26, 1857, who preceded him to heaven January 27, 1869. January 5, 1871, he married Miss Louisa B. Hawkins, of Cumberland, R. I., who survives him. He joined the Providence Conference on probation at the session of 1860, was ordained deacon by Bishop Janes in 1863, and elder by Bishop Simpson in 1865. He preached without interruption to the day of his death. Of him it may be truly said, "He died at his post." His character was singularly rounded. His private life was without a blemish. He was characterized by faultless intention, just firmness, thorough consecration, tireless activity, unwavering faith in God, unreserved sincerity, great prudence, uniform cheerfulness, singleness of aim, deep earnestness, and uncompromising principles. As a preacher he was practical, direct, fearless, scriptural, searching, and spiritual. His removal was sudden, resulting from heart failure and pneumonia.

Samuel McKeown was born in the North of Ireland October 10, 1819. Waiting a suitable time after his conversion, he united with the Church of his father. Feeling that it was his duty to preach the Gospel, and realizing the importance of a more thorough education, he entered a preparatory school at Horton, N. S., where he remained diligently pursuing his studies until the pressure of religious work, in which he participated, impelled him to enter fully into the work of the ministry. At the age of twenty we find him preaching in Nova Scotia, one year with the Wesleyans, under the direction of Rev. Henry Pope. At the close of this year he united with the Free Baptists, and was ordained to the sacred office of the ministry October 25, 1840, at Barrington, N. S.—a people with whom he remained fourteen years, enjoying an almost continuous revival. Having decided upon his life-work and settled as pastor of a church, he was married November 28, 1844, to Miss Sathronia Crowell, of Barrington, N. S., who after forty-six years of happy married life lingers to mourn the loss of a loving Christian husband. In 1855 our departed brother removed to Taunton, Mass., and organized a Free Baptist church, gathered a flourishing society, with which he remained ten years, leaving them at the end of his term of service worshiping in a good church that was erected during his pastorate, and toward which he gave $2,000. In 1865 he removed to Maine, preaching in Gardiner, West Waterville, and North Anson, and from there went to Manchester, N. H. In 1873 he joined the Providence—now New England Southern—Conference. Subsequently he was stationed at Chatham, Fall River, Marion, Jewett City and Hopeville, Staffordville, and Willington, where he ended his pastoral labors. At the session of the Conference in 1887 he took a superannuated relation, which he retained till the Master said, "Come up higher." From Staffordville he removed to Jewett City, where he was welcomed and beloved by all denominations. His preaching was practical, sound, and spiritual. He made full "proof of his ministry" in bringing many to Christ. His piety was ardent and his life consistent. To know him was to be inspired with confidence in him, and to be in his presence was a benediction. Though his sufferings were severe at times, he bore all patiently, rejoicing in God amid them all till he fell asleep in Jesus October 7, 1890.

Samuel Carter Brown, D.D., died in Warren, R. I., December 2, 1890. He was born at Saccarappa, Me., July 12, 1818. In 1844 he was admitted to the (then) Providence Conference as a probationer, and returned for the next two years to the pastorate at East Greenwich. After a brief service in the itinerancy, in which his health became impaired, he was again appointed to a teacher's chair in the seminary, and two years later he resumed pastoral work, which he continued in nine full terms of two years each, and two terms of four years each as presiding elder. Dr. Brown was five times elected by his Conference as its secretary, three times as delegate to the General Conference—in 1860, 1864, and 1868—and in 1872 as reserve delegate. In 1870, by appointment of the General Conference of 1868, he represented the Church at the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Canada. He was married in 1850 to Maria Russell, of New Bedford, who survives him. In 1865 he purchased a home in Warren, where he ever after continued to reside, and where he and his companion delighted to dispense a generous hospitality to all comers, and were never happier than in receiving brethren in the ministry. Though for some time in failing health and suffering from disease of the heart, the end came unexpectedly. On Thursday, November 13, he was in Boston on business, and at the meeting of the General Missionary Committee, and on the following Monday was seized with sudden prostration and sank rapidly, though perfectly conscious until a short time before the end. With tender messages to absent relatives and friends he left to his brethren in the Conference the assurance that he died "in peace with all men, and with a good hope of immortal life through the merits of the Lord Jesus Christ." Dr. Brown's style of preaching was persuasive and winning; his language was chaste and beautiful, his illustrations apt and often drawn from his literary storehouse. In most of his pastorates his work was attended with success in the material improvement of the property and in the conversion of souls. He had a gift of attaching to himself ardent friends among all classes of people. His cheerful spirit, amiable manners, cultured style, and quiet humor drew into his circle many who were led by the attractions with which his religious counsels were clothed to accept the salvation to which he invited them.

Nelson Goodrich was born in Glastonbury, Conn., June 13, 1816. He was ordained a local deacon and admitted a probationer into the Providence Conference by Bishop Morris in 1843, and in 1846 Bishop Waugh ordained him an elder and received him into full membership in the Conference. His first pastoral charge was Plymouth, Mass., after which he was successively stationed in Monument, Wareham, Dartmouth, Millville, Wapping, East Glastonbury, East Haddam, Colchester, Sprague, Wapping again, South Coventry, Staffordville, Haddam Neck, Eastford, Attawaugan, Voluntown and Griswold, Tolland Depot and Square Pond, East Thompson, Greene and West Greenwich, Tolland Depot and Willington, Marlborough and Hebron, Gale's Ferry, Quarryville. In 1884 he was returned supernumerary at his own request. Locating himself in Quarryville, he remained here till his decease, preaching as he had opportunity, and in other ways aiding his pastor and blessing the Church by his godly example and his labors. Brother Goodrich was married in Wilbraham, Mass., to Miss Sarah A. Sawyer. Of Brother Goodrich it may be emphatically said that he was a good man. His piety was uniform, his devotion to his work consistent, and his labors fruitful. On the last Sabbath in March last he preached his last sermon. He had been quite ill during the preceding week, suffering from a cold, with some fever, but could not be prevailed upon to forego the loved privilege of conducting divine service and preaching. He got through the work with some difficulty, after which he was conveyed to his home completely exhausted. From that time he gradually sank until Thursday, April 2, when exhausted nature yielded and the wheels of life stood still.

LORENZO DOW BENTLEY was born in Norwich, Conn., February 13, 1813, and died suddenly of pneumonia in his native city, March 1, 1891. At the session of what was then the Providence Conference in 1847 he was received as a probationer. Indeed, he had a holy passion for souls, and many were given to him as seals of his ministry. As a preacher he was methodical, scriptural, logical, instructive, and fearless. Sometimes his sermons were attended by a pathos and unction that were almost overwhelming. He had such exalted ideas of the sacredness of the ministerial office that he could not—he dared not—do otherwise than declare all the counsel of God as he understood it. For thirty-three years he continued in the effective ranks and did his work faithfully. In 1880 he took a supernumerary relation, which he sustained until his decease. His funeral was attended in the Central Methodist Episcopal Church March 3. The following is a list of the fields of labor occupied by our departed brother: Tolland, Stonington and Westerly, Gurleyville, Marlborough, Fisherville, Danielsonville, Warehouse Point, Norwich, Gale's Ferry, Wapping, Moodus, Eastford, Montville and Salem, Conference missionary, East Thompson, Putnam, East Woodstock, Norwich Town, Baltic and Canterbury, South Glastonbury, Greenville. We believe his faithful labors in all these charges were attended with revival influences, and in several of the number the revivals were extensive and powerful. The last Sabbath before his death, even when disease had commenced its fatal work, he preached two earnest gospel sermons in Warehouse Point, one of his former appointments. Even when his mind was wandering, as the result of disease, he was deeply interested in religious work, and delivered two discourses only the day before he died. He almost "ceased at once to work and live."

THOMAS ELY was born in Westfield, Mass., December 22, 1811, and died, after a brief illness, at his home in Providence, R. I., January 8, 1891, aged seventy-nine years. Within a year after he was admitted into full membership in the Church he was licensed to preach, and three months afterward admitted on trial in the New England Conference at a session held in Boston in 1833. He was a member of Conference fifty-eight years. As a preacher he was clear, logical, forceful, instructive; not profound, and never sensational; in theology clearly biblical when judged by Methodist standards; as a pastor, a good adviser, kind and sympathizing, and his skill in the management of church finances in critical cases was admitted by all his associates. December 30, 1835, he married Miss Sarah A. Sisson, of Little Compton, R. I., who shared with him for more than half a century the labors peculiar to an itinerant ministry, and who now survives him. His Conference appointments and relations were as follows: Middleborough and Rochester, North Fairhaven, Newport, Falmouth, Eastham, Edgartown, South Dartmouth, Fall River, Chestnut Street, Providence; Sandwich, Edgartown, presiding elder, Providence District; New London, Sachem Street, Norwich; South Manchester, First Church, Fall River; Power Street, Providence; Woonsocket, Brockton, County Street, New Bedford; presiding elder, Sandwich District; Allen Street, New Bedford; First Church, Fall River; superannuated. So clear and marked were his experiences that to the end of life he was often heard to say he had no doubt about his acceptance with God or his call to preach the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

FREDERIC UPHAM, D.D., died at Fairhaven, Mass., March 20, 1891. He was born at North Malden (now Melrose), Mass., October 4, 1799. He was received into the New England Conference in June, 1821. He was now returned to the Scituate Circuit, which comprised twenty towns lying in Plymouth, Bristol, and Norfolk Counties in Massachusetts, in the greater portion of which Methodism was a strange phenomenon previously unknown, and "to be hated needed only to be seen" by the sober and religiously apathetic Puritans, who received the young evangelist with contemptuous neglect, while the baser sort met him with hootings and insults and abuse of himself and his faithful horse. Undaunted he kept on his way, and boldly set up his standard in Plymouth, the very citadel of the cold and formal Puritanism of two hundred years' descent from John Robinson. So well did he carry himself that when the end of the year came around he was sent to the adjoining circuit, Sandwich; and, until 1850 it was given him to cultivate the hard soil of south-eastern Massachusetts, a considerable portion of which was within the limits of these two circuits, having been eleven years presiding elder of districts lying largely therein. At the formation, in 1840, of the Providence Conference, now the New England Southern Conference, which embraces all the territory in which his early labors were performed, he became a member of that body, and so continued through his life. He was ordained deacon by Bishop George in June, 1823, and elder in June, 1825, by Bishop Hedding. From 1850 to 1868 his appointments were: Bristol, Fall River, First Church, Newport; Mathewson Street, Providence; Mystic Bridge, Norwich; Taunton, Thames Street, Newport; after which he retired, in 1868, to a pleasant home in Fairhaven, where he continued in the effective relation fifteen years, receiving regular appointments in the neighborhood of his residence until, compelled by physical infirmity, he reluctantly yielded to the inevitable, and in 1883 accepted the position of a superannuate. May 13, 1824, Mr. Upham was married to Deborah Bourne, of Sandwich, who died April 17, 1879. In 1865 he received the degree of Doctor of Divinity from Indiana Asbury (now De Pauw) University. He was a member of the General Conference in 1832, 1840, 1844, and 1872; and from 1860 to 1864 served the Church in the General Missionary Committee. He preached his last sermon at the church in Fairhaven in December, 1890, from Heb. ii, 1. While his magnificent physical frame was yielding to the conquering power of time his intellect appeared to hold its seat undisturbed. He was confined to his bed but three days. Just before he died his son said, "Father, you are almost home." He answered "Yes," and "was not, for God took him;" and he was carried to the grave on the seventy-first anniversary of his first license. Dr. Upham was not a scholar in the scholastic sense of the term; but he was a student, and by improving such opportunities as were afforded him and using the fund of common sense with which nature furnished him he became a well qualified, popular, and successful minister. Trained in the New England style of manners and morals, he was always governed by its canons of strict uprightness, though free from all taint of asceticism. His piety was cheerful, his temper diffusing pleasure, as his countenance dispensed sunshine. As an Arminian he was strictly orthodox, and never varied by a single point, it is believed, from the views of Scripture which he embraced at his conversion. He accepted the entire curriculum of Wesleyan doctrine. As a churchman he was firmly attached to the polity of Episcopal Methodism, a consistent adherent and advocate of the Discipline, and a progressive conservative as to its modification. As a preacher he was clear in the statement and maintenance of his propositions, earnest and emphatic in pressing his views of truth, somewhat quaint in style and sometimes bordering on the humorous, but always conveying instruction and valuable lessons to the hearer.

Maine Conference.

CALEB FULLER was born in Paris, Me., November 12, 1805, and died in Bath, Me., May 8, 1890. At the age of twenty-one he was converted, and soon felt called to preach. Two years afterward he joined the Maine Conference (in 1828), and was appointed, with Rev. P. P. Morrill, to Bethel Circuit, which embraced twelve towns and plantations. A gracious revival attended the labors of these devoted ministers. Two hundred converts united with the church. His subsequent appointments were: Belfast, Thomaston, Ovington, Orono, Bath, Kennebunkport, Augusta, and Hallowell. While at Belfast he was married to Miss Lucy Monroe, of Livermore. On account of the feeble health of his wife he took a supernumerary relation in 1845, and supplied the church at Wayne. His wife died during the year, and he then located and cultivated a small farm in Wayne, where he subsequently married Miss Elizabeth B. Swift. During his eight years of location he preached constantly on the Sabbath. In 1854 Brother Fuller was re-admitted to Conference, and received an appointment to Waterville, and afterward to Fairfield, Hallowell, Farmington, Portland (Pine Street), Bath (Beacon Street), Gorham, and Hallowell. In 1871 he retired from active service, and his name is among the superannuated until he was translated to the heavenly citizenship. Kind and social in his intercourse, he was every-where received as a genial and beloved associate and revered as a devoted minister of the Lord Jesus Christ. He was a most successful minister, a popular preacher, a faithful pastor, and especially useful as a peace-maker. After the last session of our Conference he tarried in Bath, visiting his brother, Dr. A. J. Fuller. After a few days of illness, which at first was not thought serious, he suddenly died from heart failure, passing peacefully to his heavenly home.

Philadelphia Conference.

John Asbury Cooper was born February 3, 1837, in Greensborough, Caroline County, Md. In 1859 there came upon his heart the "Woe is me if I preach not," and commission was granted him the following year to preach the Gospel of Christ. In 1862 he was admitted on trial in the Philadelphia Conference and appointed junior preacher on Denton Circuit. In 1863 he was sent to assist on Hillsborough Circuit, whence, in September, transferred to fill a vacancy on Kent Circuit. In 1864 he was in charge of Queenstown Circuit; in 1865 he was ordained deacon by Bishop Janes and given a nominal appointment, with the privilege of attending the Biblical Institute at Concord, N. H., at which place he was taken sick, and in two months returned home, and during the remainder of the year taught school and preached as opportunity offered. In 1866 he was granted a location to attend the West River Institute. Brother Cooper sustained the loss of his father in January, 1868, and this obliging him to cease his literary pursuits at the institute, he was re-admitted to the Philadelphia Conference that spring and sent to Chapman's Circuit. In 1869 he was ordained elder by Bishop Thomson and appointed to Shenandoah. After this he served the work uninterruptedly in the following charges: Temple Circuit, Jenkintown, Nesquehoning, Baldwin's (now Steelton), Tremont Circuit, Georgetown and Gap Circuit, Fulton Circuit, Coventryville Circuit, Charlestown, Bird-in-Hand Circuit. During the last three months of this pastorate he was obliged to desist from all ministerial labors, and by medical advice sought strength at Clifton Springs, only to return unimproved and to rest. Brother Cooper was married October 27, 1874, to Miss Belle T. Rutter, of Baltimore, who died the following year. In February, 1879, he was united in matrimony to Miss Rachel J. Livingston, who survives him. About the first of March, importuned by increasing infirmities, Brother Cooper came to reside with relatives at Gap, where, until released from earth's trials, he enjoyed the ministrations of loving friends and former parishioners. Our departed brother was possessed of a large, strong physique, vigorous to endure the strain of a preacher's life. His mental habitude favored excellent preparation for the pulpit. His mind was analytic and argumentative naturally, and improved by persistent, careful culture. In ministerial associations his peculiar bent for fraternal converse more easily discovered itself. How keenly he felt the deprived absence from Conference fellowship only those nearest him knew. As a pastor, while not disparaging any duties, he paid special attention to the interests of the Sabbath-school and to the training of the probationers of the church. As a preacher he was an ardent student of the word, interpreting the Scripture by itself, a workman that needed not to be ashamed, and had it not been for a slight hesitancy in utterance, one who has known him during his entire ministerial life asserts, "he would have stood above the average." Those who heard his sermons at camp-meetings in recent years expressed astonishment at the vigor of his thought, and rejoiced in the holy unction that accompanied his deliverances of truth. He loved to preach, and when utterly incapacitated by heart weakness besought the privilege of dispensing the word of salvation. Even after Conference, when a supernumerary relation was granted him, he offered himself to his newly appointed presiding elder for such work as he might be able to do. But a few days after the brethren were returned to their labors Brother Cooper passed to his reward.

Thomas Montgomery died September 9, 1890. His death was not unanticipated, for he had been gradually going down for more than three years, failing day by day in body and mind. He was a good man, and therefore ready to suffer as well as to do the will of his divine Master. Brother Montgomery was born in the city of Philadelphia, January 20, 1827, and was consequently in the sixty-fourth year of his age at the time of his death. Being ambitious to secure a thorough education, he applied himself industriously to the studies necessary to an admission to college, and, passing the required examination, he was admitted to Dickinson College, then under the presidency of Rev. Jesse T. Peck, D.D. Finding it necessary to do something that would enable him to assist his aged parents, he left Carlisle in the autumn of 1848 and went to Concord, N. H., where he engaged in the work of teaching, and where he received license to preach under date of January 10, 1849. After spending two years in Concord he accepted the chair of ancient languages in the New York Seminary at Charlotteville, N. Y. Here he remained three years—1851–1853—and then returned to his old home in Philadelphia. In the spring of 1855 he was received on trial in the Philadelphia Conference. His appointments were as follows: Mt. Joy, Marietta, Thirty-eighth Street, Philadelphia; Brandywine, New Castle, Delaware City, Strasburg, Pa.; supernumerary one year on account of an affection of his eyes; Dauphin, Middletown, Mahanoy City, Marshallton, New London, Siloam, Delaware County, Mt. Nebo, Millersburg, a second term at Mt. Joy, and Salem, Chester County. This was his last appointment, for manifestations of failing brain-power during the year admonished him that the time had come to lay aside his armor and go on the retired list. The following spring, 1887, therefore, he asked and received a change in his relation from effective to supernumerary, and at the end of the year he was placed on the superannuated list, where he remained till the time of his death. Brother Montgomery was a man of literary taste, of studious habits, and of great industry, and hence he became quite a linguist and well posted in natural and moral science, in history, and in theology. As a preacher he was always clear, scriptural, and practical in his expositions of divine truth. As a pastor he was conscientious, sympathetic, faithful, and as a consequence drew the members of his respective charges to him as with hooks of steel. He was, in short, a fine specimen of a Christian gentleman, a good preacher and a faithful pastor, who during his ministerial life edified the Church and led many souls to the Lord Jesus Christ.

DAVID MCKEE was born in Middletown, Del., April 25, 1841, and died in Paschalville, Philadelphia, October 14, 1890. He was received on probation into the Philadelphia Annual Conference in the spring of 1860. In 1862 he was admitted into full membership and ordained deacon by Bishop Morris. In 1864 he was elected to elder's orders and ordained by Bishop Ames. His successive appointments were as follows: Newport, as junior preacher, two years; St. George's, Newark, Paschalville, Hestonville, Radnor and Bethesda, Haddington; located because of throat trouble. In 1872 he was re-admitted, and was appointed to Girardville, St. Clair, South Chester. Here, in 1875, his health failed, and in 1876 he took a supernumerary relation, which continued until 1879, when, his health having been restored, he accepted an invitation to serve Christian Street Church, Philadelphia. In the spring of 1880 he was made effective, and re-appointed to Christian Street, Paschalville, Strasburg, Middletown. He fell asleep in Jesus in the fifth year of his pastorate of the latter church. Brother McKee was an exceptionally modest and self-depreciative man. His ideal of the work of the preacher in the pulpit was very high. Hence his preparation for preaching was most thorough and conscientiously faithful. Many of his hearers gratefully remember and gladly testify to the excellence, ability, eloquence, and power of his sermons. God put the seal of his approbation upon his labors by crowning them with gracious revivals in most of his charges. His devotion to his one work as an "all-around" Methodist pastor was evidenced in the impress of his individuality upon the churches he served, in the upbuilding of believers in Christian life and character, and in winning recruits to the grand army of the Captain of our salvation. As a man Brother McKee was pre-eminently a Christian gentleman, modest and unassuming, but ever manifesting a high type of fidelity to his Saviour and manly appreciation of his brethren. On the 20th of February, 1866, he was married to Miss May A. Ogden, of Paschalville, and for nearly a quarter of a century this was a happy Christian home. His malady was Bright's disease. Manfully he struggled with his insidious foe for years. At the last without a murmur or regret he accepted the ordering of Providence, calmly laid down in his bed, and saying, "Good-bye," sweetly fell asleep in Jesus.

WILLIAM T. MAGEE was born in Salisbury, Md., on June 10, 1831, and finished his earthly course March 1, 1891, aged fifty-nine years. He was received on trial by the Philadelphia Annual Conference in 1856, admitted into full connection in 1858, and ordained a deacon by Bishop Ames. In 1860 he was ordained an elder by Bishop Scott. On June 1, 1859, Brother Magee was united in marriage to Miss Mary A. Wolfe. His first wife died in faith on August 31, 1879, at Clifton, Delaware County, Pa. On June 7, 1881, he married Miss Margaretta McClintock, who is now his sorrowing widow. The pastoral appointments of Brother Magee were as follows: Springfield, Pottstown, Perkiomen, Parryville, Monroe, Siloam, Philadelphia, Lehman's Chapel and Fairview, Newtown, Richmond Circuit, Mount Nebo, Oakdale, North Ninth Street, Salem Circuit, Village Green, Clifton and Mount Pleasant, Siloam, Delaware County, South Easton, Girardville, New Hope, Strasburg. At the latter place he was attacked by partial paralysis while conducting the opening services on Sunday morning, and although his health improved somewhat he was never afterward able to preach. Coming to Philadelphia to attend the session of the Conference on February 26, he suffered on the afternoon of that day another attack of paralysis. After a lengthened period of unconsciousness, during which all that tender affection and medical skill could do was done to relieve him, he fell asleep on Sabbath morning. His remains were interred in the ministers' burial-lot at Mount Moriah Cemetery, on Wednesday, March 4. Brother Magee was a good man, a good preacher, a good husband and father.

Delaware Conference.

ISAIAH BROUGHTON was born in Worcester County, Md., November 13, 1817, and departed this life July 1, 1890, in Camden, N. J., after a brief illness, aged seventy-two years. Father Broughton was reared amid the hardships of slavery, and was himself a slave, being owned by one Morris Broughton. He seemed to be eminently fitted for those trying times, and possessed lion-like courage. He did not fear man, yet he was naturally kind and ever ready to make peace, and had many friends. He was an able expounder of the word of God, although he had been deprived of an early training in school. Father Broughton was one of the founders of the Delaware Conference, in 1864, and received the following appointments: Pocomoke, Kent Circuit, Centerville Circuit, Millington, Mount Zion, John Wesley and Centerville, Chester, Church Creek, Hillsborough, Church Creek again, Hillsborough again, Greensborough, Denton. In 1885 he accepted a superannuated relation at the request of Bishop Foster, in consideration of his advancing age and the demands of the work in the Conference. He was a kind husband, an indulgent father, and a cheerful companion.

ABRAHAM BROWN was born in 1833, in Baltimore, Md. At the organization of the Delaware Annual Conference in 1864 Brother Brown was received on probation into the Conference, since which he has served the following appointments with great success: John Wesley, Philadelphia; Deposit, Salem, Kent, Salisbury, Newton. In 1876 he was appointed presiding elder of the Salisbury District, where he labored for four years. He afterward served Easton, Saint Michael's, Townsend, Dover Station, Haven and North Penn, Haven only. This was his last appointment in the effective work. By reason of failing health he reluctantly asked for a superannuated relation at the last session of the Delaware Conference. His work at Haven charge, Philadelphia, though in a hopeless condition when he was appointed, was the crowning effort of his life, and it will speak loudly for him in the time to come. He bore his sufferings, which were very great at times, with much patience and resignation. On Thursday evening, March 12, 1891, he was relieved of them by death, at the age of fifty-eight years.

JOSHUA BRINKLEY was born December 27, 1815, in Wilmington, Del. He was joined in holy matrimony to Miss Caroline E. Bayard, October 13, 1844. He was received into Conference in the year 1861. At the organization of the Delaware Conference in 1864, when the call was made for laborers to go into the vineyard of the Lord, he answered, as a good servant, "Master, here am I." Five years prior to this he had been ordained deacon by Bishop Scott. On July 28, 1864, he was ordained elder by Bishop Janes. Brother Brinkley was once visiting Lewiston Circuit, which is near Laurel, Del., where he intended to preach, when he was prevented from declaring the glad tidings of salvation by the white people of that place, who armed themselves, came to the house of Brother Samuel, with whom he stopped, and captured him. Although the mob was armed with guns and clubs they did him no serious injury. Informing him what would follow should he come again to preach the Gospel at that place, they let him go. Though warned not to return he came again to Laurel, being urged so to do by Rev.

Adam Wallace, presiding elder of the Philadelphia Conference. But as soon as he entered the town he was insulted and assaulted by a crowd of white boys. Reaching Cobwell Moore's he was concealed. He was, however, taken from his hiding-place by a mob armed with guns and bayonets and carried ten miles away from Laurel and then released. Since the organization of the Delaware Annual Conference he filled the following appointments: Port Deposit, Mount Zion, Dover, Bridgeville, New Castle, Wilmington, and others. The life of Brother Brinkley was exceedingly eventful; but, no matter how serious the event, he never faltered. He was a lover of the Delaware Conference. When his health failed he was even then unwilling to leave the effective ranks; but at the advice of his brethren he accepted a superannuated relation in 1884, and continued in this relation until his death.

Baltimore Conference.

Henry Bruner was born near Centerville, Cumberland County, Pa., July 24, 1848. He died at Buckeystown, Md., March 2, 1891, of Bright's disease. He was recommended for admission into the Maryland Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church in 1870. He was ordained deacon in 1872 by Dr. Evans Reese, President of the Conference, and elder in 1874 by Dr. D. W. Bates. The following were the appointments to which he was assigned while in connection with the Methodist Protestant Church, namely: Cecil Circuit, Jefferson Circuit, Dorchester, Kent Island, Deer Creek, Milton, Rowansville, Concord Circuit, Middleway, Surrey, Cumberland City. He then entered the Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, serving on Buckeystown Circuit until his departure to his rest on high. Brother Bruner was a good man in the very best sense, cheery and pure in life, thoroughly conscientious as a minister of the Gospel. He was a good, earnest, scriptural preacher. In his pastoral work he was more than usually faithful. He was unostentatious in demeanor, gentle in his bearing. Yet he was decided in his convictions and firm in his administration. He was sick for several months. His last words were, "I am trusting in Christ."

Mayberry Goheen was born in Lancaster County, Pa., August 14, 1804. He entered the Baltimore Conference in 1833, was ordained deacon by Bishop Emory, in Winchester, March 15, 1835, and elder by Bishop Waugh, in Baltimore, March 12, 1837. He was a member of the Conference fifty-seven years, thirty-two effective and twenty-five retired. His appointments were: Augusta, Fincastle, Jefferson, Woodstock, Moorfield, Berryville, Clearfield, Boonsborough, Berkeley, Emory, Baltimore; Williamsport, Lewistown, Leesburg, South Branch, Rockingham, Lewisburg District, Fayette Street, Baltimore; Franklin Street, Baltimore; South Baltimore, Ellicott City, City Station, Baltimore; superannuated, McKendree, Washington; supernumerary, superannuated. On the Sunday before his death our brother was at church in Hagerstown, was taken ill with paralysis the Wednesday following, and died Thursday afternoon, August 21, 1890, being a few days more than eighty-six years old. His closing hours were peaceful. The ministry of Brother Goheen was earnest and spiritual. Of dignified bearing and deliberate speech, he prepared carefully and delivered with gravity his plain and unadorned sermons. They were practical, occasionally speculative and curious, but always warm with experience and bracing in tone. He never forgot the proprieties of place, of word, or of manner. He was a devoted pastor, and his administration and oversight were more influential than his preaching. His information was accurate in theology and in a limited sphere of general literature. His quotations of Scripture were carefully exact and abundant. He inspired confidence as a sincere and holy messenger of the truth. The character of Mayberry Goheen was saintly and heroic, but prudent and reserved beyond most men. His reserve became sometimes a barrier to the easy confidences of daily life. One had to know him well to feel free in his presence. On the other hand, he was free-spoken in denouncing sin and sinful modes of life and courteous in the exchange of social civilities. In the home of want or bereavement he was the comforter of the poor and of the sad. The family of his old master remained through life devoted to him, and he to them.

Octavius P. Wirgman departed this life for the home beyond April 18, 1890, at Romney, W. Va. He was born in or near London about the year 1816. He was thus about seventy-four years old at his death. He entered the Baltimore Conference in 1846. He served the following charges: Lewisburg Circuit, Lexington, Rockingham, Bladensburg, Hillsborough, Springfield, Franklin, Highland, Churchville, Augusta, South Branch. The opening of the late war found him in charge at Romney, W. Va. He remained here at his post when all the other ministers of the place removed, faithfully attending to the duties of a minister, preaching the Gospel, visiting the sick, and offering consolation to the distressed and the dying and burying the dead. He was the pastor during the trying scenes of the memorable period from 1861 to 1865, not only of the village of Romney, but of the entire outlying territory. In 1867 he took a superannuated relation. This continued till his death at Romney. Brother Wirgman was very greatly respected by the entire community. He was a diligent student, an earnest preacher of the Gospel, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed. During the war, while preaching in the Presbyterian Church in Romney, our own church being then used for military purposes, a revival of religion took place, and about half a hundred souls were happily converted to God.

South-west Kansas Conference.

Frank P. Moore was born in New London County, Conn., on September 2, 1853, and died in Caldwell, Kan., July 21, 1890. In 1882 he was licensed to preach, and his first appointment was to serve as assistant pastor under Brother B. C. Swartz, on the Caldwell Circuit. The next year he was appointed to Mayfield Circuit, remaining there two years. From there he was sent to Cheney Circuit, then to Little River, and lastly to Fowler, where his health became so impaired that he was placed on the superannuated list, and never again entered the active work. Brother Moore was a man deeply conscientious, diligent in business, studious, careful in conversation. It may be truthfully said of him, "He was a good man, full of faith and the Holy Ghost." He was a sweet-spirited Christian man, one jealous of the welfare of Christ's kingdom and our beloved Methodism, and always ready in whatever way he could to lend a helping hand.

Joseph M. Romine was born at Wapella, Ill., on August 28, 1853, and died at Cherryvale, Kan., on October 26, 1890. He was received into the Illinois Conference on trial in September, 1873. A year later he was transferred to the Southern Illinois Conference, in which he labored four years, when, under the advice of physicians, he transferred to the South Kansas Conference, hoping by this change of climate to arrest the decline of his health. The benefit thus obtained, together with his indomitable will, enabled him to resist the ravages of disease and hold death at bay and perform effective work long after most men would have succumbed. At the division of this Conference in 1881 our brother fell into the South-west Kansas Conference, in which he continued until death. On account of failing health he was given a supernumerary relation in 1887 and a superannuated relation in 1889. A loyal Methodist, a devoted Christian, well endowed mentally, and an industrious student, our departed brother became thoroughly familiar with the history, doctrine, and polity of the Church and with the Bible. His sermons were systematic, scriptural, helpful. A good voice, pleasing address, well-formed sentences, and a style at once deliberate, earnest, and impressive made him a preacher of no mean ability. Best of all, he preached as one who had tested in the crucible of his own experience the truth of his message. He was also a good pastor. He looked after details. Churches and parsonages were built and repaired wherever he went. The people were visited, comforted, helped. He had excellent tact in the management of those difficult cases with which every pastor meets. Many will rise up and call him blessed. His last days were full of triumph. In 1887 Brother Romine married, in Vandalia, Ill., Miss D. Ella Jones, who proved a true helpmate.

Washington Conference.

PERRY MCPHERSON departed this life on the Great Mills Circuit, Saint Mary's County, Md., April 13, 1890, in the full triumph of faith. He was received into the Washington Conference at its twelfth session, held at Alexandria, Va., February 24, 1875, and appointed to Martinsburg, W. Va., where he served two years, doing acceptable service; from thence he was appointed to White Plains Circuit, Northern Neck, Va., and to other responsible charges in the Conference, discharging his ministerial duties faithfully, closing his labors on earth in the Great Mills charge. Much can be said of this faithful man of God. He was modest and reserved, in consequence of which his real worth was somewhat obscured to all but those who knew him best. His literary attainments were passable; although he was not a graduate from any institution of learning yet he deserves to be honored for his ability to preach the Gospel, which he did, making the word of truth plain to those who heard him. As a Christian Brother McPherson was without reproach, living the Gospel that he preached. He had a deep and clear conviction of divine truth, and enjoyed the respect and confidence of all who knew him. He always manifested a cheerful disposition, and in his religious experience he was bright and happy, giving proof of "having passed from death unto life."

WINSTEAD CALLOWAY was born in Bedford County, Va., March 18, 1843. At the twelfth session of the Washington Conference, held February 24, 1875, at Alexandria, Va., he was admitted on trial and appointed to Franklin Circuit, Va., where he labored successfully for three years. He served the following appointments: Langley Circuit, Abingdon, Christiansburg, Liberty, Whitehall Circuit, where he closed his work on earth, to rest from his labors. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Ames in 1877, and elder by the same bishop, in Centennial Church, Baltimore, in 1879. He was a man of fine qualities of mind and heart, a Christian, true to his God and to his work, in personal friendship generous and confiding. As a preacher he was a faithful and impressive teacher of the truth as it is in Jesus. As a Christian he had a rich experience; he was a man of deep piety. He was subject to heart trouble, and often expressed himself as expecting to die at any time from heart failure. A few days before his death he told his wife, "I expect to die soon, and that suddenly, but I am looking out for it; I am ready at any time." On the Sabbath before his death he filled his appointments as usual on his work, returning to his home on Monday. On Thursday, the day of his death, he went out in the morning, fed his horse, cut some wood for his family, then returning to the house he complained of feeling unwell; he laid down, and soon, without a struggle, "he was not, for God took him." He died January 23, 1891, aged forty-eight years.

North Indiana Conference.

YANCEY B. MEREDITH was born near Mooresville, Ind., October 11, 1832, and died in New Castle, Ind., March 15, 1891. When he was twenty-one he returned to Indiana. In 1855 he was married to Miss Sarah E. House, now his widow. In 1860 he was admitted on trial in the Indiana Conference, and in due time ordained deacon by Bishop Ames, and elder by Bishop Simpson. In the Indiana Conference his appointments were: Waverly, Lancaster, Bowling Green, Patoka, Owensville, Newburg, and Boonesville. In 1871 he was transferred to the North Indiana Conference. His appointments were: Columbia City, Ligonier, La Grange, Greenfield, Ossian, Roanoke, presiding elder of the Fort Wayne District, and New Castle. At New Castle failing health obliged him to retire from the effective ranks, after twenty-five years of active service. Since his superannuation Brother Meredith engaged in various light occupations. He still continued to decline. In August, 1890, this decline became very marked, and continued to increase in severity until the time of his death. He was confined to his bed but one week. All this time he was very hopeful and desirous to live, wishing to do more for the Master, and expressing the belief that his life-work was not finished, there was yet so much to be accomplished. He said that his desire to study and preach the Gospel was never stronger than it was now; even a few minutes before his departure he hoped that he would soon be better. On Palm Sunday, just as the bells were ringing for the evening service, he quietly and unexpectedly passed away, appearing to be conscious and to recognize those around him. He departed so gently that his wife could not tell when he drew the last breath. In his family Brother Meredith was kind and indulgent. To his companion he was a great stay. As a citizen he was a man of firm convictions, ever standing up for the right without considering the consequences. He was a genial companion, a fluent conversationalist, a true and sympathizing friend. His reputation was always above reproach, and his character was such as becomes the minister of the Lord Jesus Christ. He was a faithful pastor. As a presiding elder he watched diligently for the best interests of all. He was as diligent in his study as he was in the other portions of his work. His sermons were thorough and elaborated with great care, written fully. He gained a deserved reputation for eloquence, and his discourses commanded respect always. He delighted in the consideration of themes demanding deep thought. His aspirations were as lofty as his spirit was gentle. Trials he bore with great patience. In his religious life he was devout, and made perfect through suffering.

East Maine Conference.

PASCAL E. BROWN was born in Poland, Me., October 21, 1829, and died in Pembroke, Me., April 12, 1891, aged sixty-one years. He joined the Maine Conference in 1857, was ordained deacon in 1859 by Bishop Ames, and elder in 1861 by Bishop Scott. He was united in marriage to Miss Melvina S. Williams, of Skowhegan, April 15, 1858, who still survives him. His work continued in the Maine Conference till 1872, at which time he was transferred to the East Maine Conference and stationed at Boothbay. His subsequent appointments were as follows: Dresden, Union, Clinton, Guilford, Corinth, Hampden, Pembroke. This outline of service but imperfectly exhibits the noble work for Christ which was accomplished by this devoted and faithful minister of the Lord Jesus.

Brother Brown possessed a rich gospel experience, by the fullness of which he was frequently enabled to lead God's people forward to higher attainments in the life of Christ. He was an able advocate of the temperance cause and efficient in his pulpit ministrations. In family life he was kind and generous. His last illness was somewhat brief and endured with much composure of spirit and abiding Christian trust. He saw that his work was done, and calmly rested upon the promises of God's word. They were his support in life's closing period.

Ephraim Bryant was born in Union, Me., February 7, 1823, and died in Augusta, Me., December 11, 1890. In 1849 he married Miss Harriet N. Moody, of Standish, Me. Brother Bryant was received on trial in the Maine Conference in 1846, the Conference then including the entire State, and was appointed to West Lubec. In 1847 he was stationed at West Harrington. At the organization of the East Maine Conference, in 1848, he became a member of that body, and faithfully served in the effective relation for twenty-two years, when he retired to the supernumerary rank, which relation he held for sixteen years. The last six years of his ministry his name has appeared in the roll of honor, the superannuates, from whose company he has been called to his eternal home. At the first session of the East Maine Conference he was elected to deacon's orders, and two years later to elder's orders. He was ordained to both orders by Bishop Hedding. A good man, a kind neighbor, a devoted husband and father, a true friend, a faithful pastor, an instructive preacher, a noble Christian, he has gone from a useful life to his eternal reward.

Little Rock Conference.

A. L. Tate, formerly a member of the Quaker Church, was received into the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1884, and used as a supply on the Palestine charge. He joined the Little Rock Conference in 1885, serving the following appointments: Palestine Circuit and Marble. His health then failed, and he went to Saint Louis, Mo., to be treated by a physician, and, failing, he endeavored to get home by way of the Mississippi River; he died on a steamer, and was buried on the banks of the Mississippi River, in Illinois. Brother Tate was a faithful, gentle, and Christian man.

Wilmington Conference.

Isaac N. Foreman was born March 26, 1843, in Pennsylvania, and died in Lincoln, Del., June 12, 1890. He joined the Wilmington Conference in 1873, and his first pastorate was among the people with whom he had labored as a mechanic. In his seventeen years as a pastor he had great success, and was serving the charge where he died the third term, by invitation. He was a good preacher, very tender in his ministrations among the people, and was greatly beloved. His physical decline was rapid, though he remained at his post. His last utterances were those of loving trust in the Redeemer.

John Allen was born in Berkeley, England; came to this country when thirteen years of age, and died in Brooklyn, N. Y., December 13, 1890. His first sermon was preached in Sands Street Methodist Episcopal Church, Brooklyn, in 1840. He was a member of the Philadelphia Conference from 1841 until the organization of the Wilmington Conference in 1868, continuing in the effective ranks in the latter Conference for six years, and was a supernumerary the rest of his life. He removed from Delaware to Newark, N. J., and afterward to Brooklyn. Brother Allen was a man of striking individuality, socially and intellectually, and was somewhat unique in the pulpit.

Samuel T. Gardner was born in Queen Anne County, Md., March 20, 1831, and died at Pivot Bridge, Md., January 3, 1891, aged sixty years. He was converted when about twenty years of age, and at once became a diligent student of the Scriptures. He was received on trial in the Philadelphia Conference in 1856, and served the Church in the effective ranks for twenty-seven years. He was then supernumerary for three years. In 1886 his relation was changed to effective, and continued thus until death suddenly released him from service on earth to reward in heaven. His last days of work for his charge were in great physical distress, but his end was triumphant.

South Carolina Conference.

Richard F. Blakeney entered the South Carolina Conference in the year 1873, and was from that time until the day of his death an earnest, arduous, and successful worker. He filled a large number of prominent appointments and was a success. For some months before death his sufferings were intensely painful; he nevertheless bore them with Christian fortitude and patience. He died in the month of October, 1890.

Z. L. Duncan was one of the pioneers of the Conference. Most of his labors were carried on in the rice-fields along the coast of the State. He built a large number of churches back in Beaufort and Georgetown Counties; and it is said that one of the first churches erected by him in the latter county it pleased him to call "Heaven's Gate," giving as his reason that as the Church is the gate-way to heaven the name would indeed be very appropriate. Brother Duncan, though aged, was very assiduous in the discharge of his duties as a minister of the Gospel of Christ. He never knew what it was to be idle. He was for some years a superannuate. He died June 16, 1890.

New Jersey Conference.

James Caughey was born in Ireland, of Scotch ancestry, about the year 1810, and died at Highland Park, N. J., January 30, 1891. He came to this country in early life, was converted, became a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and joined the Troy Conference in 1832. After several years of successful labor in that Conference he was granted a location that he might engage in revival service in England and Ireland. These revivals resulted in the conversion of thousands. So great was the interest that some people walked eighteen miles to hear this eloquent divine and to attend these wonderful meetings. About the year 1866, on account of broken health, he retired from active work, and lived until the time of his death in a comfortable home which he purchased in Highland Park across the river, opposite New Brunswick. He joined the Pitman Church, and soon afterward, on the recommendation of that Quarterly Conference, was received into the New Jersey Conference, that he might again have a Conference relation. He was not very well known by many of the members of the Conference, but the men who have served as pastors of Pitman Church learned to esteem him for his greatness, and love him for his goodness and friendship. He was a benediction to that church. Some of his dismissals at the communion service will never be forgotten. A few weeks before his death he stirred the congregation by his earnest and eloquent words. He was always a liberal supporter of the Gospel and all the benevolent enterprises of the Church. Brother Caughey was a scholarly and eloquent preacher. His sermons abounded with original and profound thought and were delivered in a fluent and earnest manner. Some of his perorations were equal to those of Durbin or Simpson. It is doubtful whether a more devout man ever lived. He spent hours alone in communion with God. He was in the habit of taking solitary walks pleasant afternoons among the hills that he might be alone with God. Before engaging in his revival services he would prostrate himself upon his face and struggle with God for power.

JOHN W. HICKMAN was born at Lewes, Del., April 27, 1811, and died in Philadelphia, March 17, 1891. In 1852 he was received on trial in the New Jersey Conference and returned to Cape May Circuit. The fruits of his labors on this first field of his itinerant ministry were very abundant. His appointments were as follows: Bargaintown Circuit, Medford Circuit, Fifth Street Church, Camden; Walnut Street, Salem; Bordentown, Commerce Street, Bridgeton; supernumerary, agent for Pennington Seminary, Swedesborough, Tabernacle, Camden; Woodstown, Walnut Street, Salem; Fairton, Hurffville. In 1880 he took a supernumerary relation, in which relation he continued until death. Brother Hickman was a man of marked piety. As a minister his preaching was in the demonstration of the Spirit and with power. In one respect he excelled, namely, in the ready use of the word. He always had at command the Scripture which he needed, and his extended quotations were more than simple recitations: he had his eye on the scope of the passages used and put the emphasis in the right place, so as to give his hearers an inner view of a divine revelation of the subject on hand. His sermons were also delivered with a remarkable pathos, lifting his hearers into the higher realms of thought and feeling. As a pastor his power was felt in the homes of the people and through the communities where he lived. The last seven years of his life were peacefully and pleasantly spent with his beloved wife (whose death took place only ten weeks before his own) at the comfortable home of his son-in-law, Mr. Du Bois, in Philadelphia, where they received the most tender ministrations of filial affection.

Northern New York Conference.

JOSEPH SMEDLEY was born in Williamstown, Mass., August 24, 1803, and died in Vermillion, N. Y., May 30, 1890, in the eighty-seventh year of his age. He was united in marriage with Miss Mary A. Jones, November 24, 1824. He said, speaking of his conversion, "When I was convicted of sin I was riding on horseback one day, when I concluded that if there is a God I want to know it. Stopping the horse, I dismounted and fell upon my knees in earnest prayer, and in the evening of the same day I experienced that inward and spiritual revelation of the Son of God which was an indispensable qualification for preaching his unsearchable riches." He was ordained deacon September 4, 1836, by Bishop Waugh; elder, July 13, 1845, by Bishop Hedding; admitted on trial, June 3, 1854, into full connection, June 20, 1856. He continued effective until 1862, when, on account of the sickness of his wife, which soon terminated in her death, he was superannuated till 1866. In 1865 he married his second wife—Miss Celinda Johnson, of Mexico, New York, after which his relation was changed to effective. In 1869 he was superannuated, and lived in this relation until his death.

ARTHUR A. PIERCE was born February 28, 1852, in the town of Augusta, Oneida County, N. Y., and died at the home of his brother-in-law, Jay Mayo, near Oriskany Falls, N. Y., August 14, 1890. He grew fast in the knowledge of Christianity and graces of the Spirit, and led a most earnest and exemplary Christian life. He was received into the active ranks of the ministry, joining the Northern New York Conference in the spring of 1884. His first appointment was Oriskany Falls, where he remained three years, laboring with great acceptability and good success. His second charge was Knoxborough, by request of his old friends and neighbors, where he remained three years, popular and beloved. In April, 1889, he was appointed to the Lee Center charge, where, until his death, in labors abundant and friendliness unexcelled, he greatly endeared himself to the people. It is not too much to say that in all the relations of life he was superior, a model worth following. A beloved husband, a kind father, a loved relative, a valued friend, an able and devoted minister of the Gospel, in the prime of manhood, and in the midst of great prospective usefulness, has suddenly passed away. Our brother was a good preacher, characterized by originality and plainness of discourse, delivered with great kindness and fidelity to truth and the right. As a pastor he excelled in Christian friendliness, having a kind word and good cheer for all. Our brother's death at the last was peaceful.

HIRAM NICOLLS was born in Locke, Cayuga County, N. Y., on March 11, 1821, and died in the village of Vernon, Oneida County, N. Y., October 1, 1890. In the death of Hiram Nicolls a godly man, a devoted husband and father, and a consecrated Christian minister has been called to his reward. Kind, affable, courteous, and obliging, he won for himself a strong place in the hearts of all who became acquainted with him. Being mature in his Christian experience he was wise in his councils to those who sought his advice, and all who thus confided in him found him to be a trustworthy leader. He found his way into the Black River Conference in 1854. In this relation he gave thirty-two years of earnest, devoted, and effective labor to the Christian ministry—going in and out before his people as a man of God until, stricken with paralysis, his tongue refused to utter the thoughts of love that burned in his heart. His Christian experience was of that cheerful, happy character which so commends itself to all and challenges the admiration of the unconverted world. Brother Nicolls was a loyal Methodist of the primitive type. He believed the doctrine of our Church, and cordially accepted her polity and methods of work. He went cheerfully to his appointments and labored industriously for their improvement. He was true and faithful to every interest of the Church and the people of his charge. As a preacher he was scriptural, spiritual, sympathetic, sincere, and earnest. The Church was instructed and edified, and sinners were awakened and converted under his faithful labors. For many months he was deprived of conversational intercourse with his dearest friends. They could communicate to him their thoughts, but the only answer he could give would be a smile of grateful recognition. He became entirely helpless, but in patience he possessed his soul, calmly waiting the days of his appointed time. At last the chariot came, and the weary prophet of God who had been so long and so patiently waiting ascended to the home of his father and God.

EBENEZER BRIGGS was born in Harrisburg, N. Y., January 1, 1824, and died at Russell, N. Y., March 1, 1891, aged sixty-seven years. He entered the Black River Conference in 1857. He served consecutively Bombay, North Brasher, Massena, Louisville, Chateaugay, Fort Covington, Lawrence, Norfolk, Colton, De Peyster, Russell, and Rensselaer Falls. Here he broke down during special revival work. He never recovered from the nervous prostration then brought on. His heart was in his ministerial work, but he yielded to the inevitable, took a superannuated relation, and removed to Russell, where he remained until his peaceful release from earth. In 1850 he married Miss Julia A. King, of Hammond, N. Y. In 1865 he married as his second wife Miss Eleanor G. McLeod, of Louisville Landing. The ministry of this saintly man was successful but not brilliant. It was blessed with rich results on most of his charges. He was an earnest advocate of the doctrine of Christian perfection, and, better still, he illustrated it beautifully in his life. His last days were like the closing hours of a mellow summer day.

Savannah Conference.

R. M. Taylor, one of the old warriors of the Savannah Conference, passed peacefully away in Savannah, Ga., November 4, 1890. He joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in the year 1840, at the age of twenty-six. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Payne, of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, shortly after emancipation. He united with the Georgia Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1875, and received appointments as follows: Brunswick, Saint Mary's, Savannah, Augusta, Cave Spring, Waynesborough, and Screven. Brother Taylor's service in God's Church was twenty-five years as class-leader and local preacher, sixteen years as traveling minister, and nine years superannuated. He was a good and consistent Christian, was temperate in all his habits and faithful to his trusts.

Wyoming Conference.

W. H. Bailey was born in Summit, Schoharie County, N. Y., on May 1, 1861, and died in Union Center, Broome County, N. Y., on April 7, 1890. In 1885 he was appointed as supply to South New Berlin, on Chenango District. He joined our Conference on trial in 1886 and was sent to Hartford, on the Binghamton District, where he labored two years. In 1888 he was appointed to Union Center charge, on the same district, where, after two very successful years of toil, he ceased from his labors. During his sickness and death he received every attention loving hearts could bestow from the family of Mr. Charles Pitkin, with which he boarded during his pastorate. Brother Bailey's ministerial life, though brief, was one of usefulness, characterized by faithfulness in pastoral work, enthusiasm in the work of the Sunday-school and social meetings, clearness and vigor in pulpit ministrations. He was eminently successful with the young, and much loved by them. His was a soul-saving ministry. He loved his work, and pushed it, never allowing it to push him. Every department of church work felt his energy, and success crowned his efforts.

Francis Steel Chubbuck was born in Tolland, Conn., November 12, 1812, and died in Nichols, Tioga County, N. Y., May 13, 1890. He entered the traveling connection of the Wyoming Conference and was ordained deacon in 1851 by Bishop Janes, and elder in 1853 by Bishop Waugh. He served the following charges: Brownton, Northmoreland, twice; Mehoopany, Springvale, Le Raysville, Van Ettenville, Candor, Caroline, Barton, Litchfield, and from 1866 to 1890 was superannuated. He was appointed chaplain in the army in September, 1862, and with his brother, John Chubbuck, of Binghamton, N. Y., as surgeon, was mustered in at New Orleans and placed in the Corps De Afrique for Brazos, Tex. Tenting on a sandy island, in a few months he contracted disease, and, following the advice of General Orr, he resigned and returned to his field of labor in the Conference, but never fully recovered his health. As a preacher Brother Chubbuck was logical, practical, and spiritual; as a pastor, systematical and thorough; as an administrator of the Discipline, strict, but impartial. He believed in "keeping our rules, not mending them."

Nelson Sinsebaugh Reynolds was born in Greenfield, N. Y., April 13, 1832, and died at his home in Nichols, N. Y., September 11, 1890. In 1862 he was united in marriage to Miss Delia B. Swift. His ministerial life dates from the year 1859, when he received license to preach. He entered in 1862 and became a member of the Wyoming Conference in 1863. He was ordained deacon and elder respectively by Bishops Kingsley and Thomson. He served the following charges without interruption: Cherry Ridge, Talmansville, Damascus, Hawley, Berkshire, Candor, Sidney Plains, Bainbridge, Worcester, New Berlin, Mount Upton, Plains, Sayre, and Nichols, covering a period of about thirty years. Upon a review of his work it appears that every charge save one was favored with revivals, and in some instances of the most marked and glorious character. His services were exceedingly valuable as an improver of church property. He always left more attractive churches for divine worship, and more comfortable homes for the preachers and their families, cleared away old festering church debts, and introduced a clean, business-like atmosphere into his official meetings every-where. His last illness was prolonged through several months—assuming the form finally of cancer of the liver—so serious as to place him beyond the reach of medical aid. Thus was he permitted to look calmly down the way of decline and to set his house in order with a precision of detail seldom equaled.

Central Missouri Conference.

R. P. Nelson was born in the State of Mississippi, 1851, and died December 22, 1890. He was licensed to preach in the year 1882. He was used as a supply for three years at the following places: Salem, Alma, and Fort Scott. Brother Nelson gave great promise of a successful career as a minister of the Gospel in his life and labors. He died at his post at Fort Scott, Kan. He received his last appointment from Bishop Joyce, at the Conference held at Springfield, Mo., March, 1890. A loving wife and one child are left to mourn his loss. A faithful servant of God, a devoted husband and loving father, he has gone to reap the reward of faithful labors.

Newark Conference.

William Wesley Voorhees was born in Upper Freehold township, N. J., January 21, 1834, and died at Liberty Falls, N. Y., September 12, 1890. Our dear brother was received into the New Jersey Conference at Newark, in 1856, and sent to Mount Zion, N. J. His subsequent appointments were as follows: Bloomfield, West Broad Street, Newark (now Saint Luke's); Green Village and New Vernon, Quakertown and Everettstown, Bernardsville, Succasunna, New Germantown, Rome and West Town, N. Y.; Stanhope and Waterloo, Blairstown, Summit, Otisville, N. Y.; Lafayette, Hainesville, Riverdale, Pa.; Mount Hermon, Norton and Patenburg, Glen Gardner and Junction, Mechanicsville. In all of his appointments he was laborious, effective, and acceptable. In the spring of 1860 he married Miss M. J. Forker, a most worthy woman. In April, 1873, our brother married for his second wife Miss Nettie E. Gregory, who survives him. During the winter of 1890 Brother Voorhees and his wife were the victims of la grippe, and a long and wasting illness followed. Conference time found them both nervously prostrated. Spring air and summer's balm were depended on for restoration to health and vigor; but, alas! all in vain. By the advice of his physician during August, with his family, he left the parsonage at Mechanicsville for a sojourn amid the rugged and charming hills of Sullivan County, N. Y.; here he found rest and apparent restoration to health. When his allotted time had expired, true to his habit of punctuality, under protest of his devoted wife, who had grave misgivings of his physical ability as yet, he said, "We must go home and to work." His work on earth was done; but he knew it not. "God moves in a mysterious way." Within a few short hours, by a sudden and unexpected revelation, God said to his servant, "Go thou thy way: for thou shalt rest, and stand in thy lot at the end of the days." With his family seated in the conveyance that was to convey them two miles distant to the railway our dear brother reached for the reins, when, lo! God's chariot swept down, and without a sigh or a farewell he stepped in and was translated to the company of the "blood-washed," where none say, "We are sick," and death never comes.

JOHN S. PORTER, D.D., was born in Snow Hill, Md., in 1805. He was recommended to the Philadelphia Conference in 1829. He was there admitted, and Bishop Roberts appointed him to Cambridge Circuit, in Maryland. He was sent to Dorchester in 1830, and in 1831-32 to Lewiston, in the same State. In 1833, at a session of the Conference held in Newark, in this State, he was appointed to old Saint George's, Philadelphia. It was during this year that he was married to the one who now so deeply mourns his loss. His appointments were as follows: Newark, Bordentown, Burlington, New Brunswick, Newark District, Burlington District, Greene Street, Trenton; Cross Street, Paterson; Mount Holly, Paterson District, Newark District, again; Rahway District, Hackettstown, Second Church, Rahway; Palisade, Jersey City. Thus for forty-four years he served the Church faithfully and with scarce an intermission. Eighteen years of this time he was a presiding elder, and no member of this Conference ever filled this office better than he. At this time his health partially failed, and he retired from the effective ranks. He entered the itinerant ranks when some of the heroes and fathers of an earlier Methodism still survived; Ezekiel Cooper, Solomon Sharp, Lawrence McCombs, Henry White, Nathanael Porter, Charles Pitman, and others were still living and with mighty power proclaiming a free and full salvation. He himself was favored with some remarkable revivals. In Burlington hundreds were converted and added to the Church, and in Newark, while he was presiding elder, a wonderful revival broke out while he was preaching at a quarterly meeting in Halsey Street, and hundreds were saved. From 1836 until the close of his life he belonged to the New Jersey and Newark Conferences, spending thirty-one years in the New Jersey and thirty-three years in the Newark. In 1858 the Wesleyan University bestowed upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity, an honor which he meekly wore and which he had well merited. He stood in the very forefront of our Conference as a leader and a counselor. His knowledge of ecclesiastical law was wide and accurate, and the bishops of the Church never demurred at his rulings. No one who ever saw Dr. Porter could fail to be impressed with his appearance. He was of medium height, thick-set, with a large head and a massive forehead. His face was generally mild and pleasant, and yet his mouth indicated the firmness which always characterized him. "He was a good man, full of faith and of the Holy Ghost." His life was ensphered in the beauty and glory of his religious experience. Dr. Porter was six times a member of the General Conference. He was also a patriot; he ardently loved his country, and in the recent struggle he prayed and labored for the success of its arms, and for the triumph of its cause.

New York Conference.

JOHN BURTON BEACH was born in Trumbull, Conn., November 4, 1797, and died at Middletown, in the same State, January 23, 1891. At the age of twenty-three he was married to Emmaline Hawley, a lady of rare excellence. In 1833 he was received on trial in the New York Conference. His appointments were: Redding, Burlington, Woodbury, Derby, Birmingham, Fairhaven, Cheshire, Burlington and New Field, Sheffield, Sing Sing, Thirtieth Street, New York; Monticello District, Prattsville District, and Coxsackie. In 1861 a superannuated relation was granted him. The Gospel as it came to men by this embassador came "not in word only, but in power and the Holy Ghost, and in much assurance." As a presiding elder his ministry was a marvelous success in all departments of the work. His preaching was biblical, spiritual, and inspiring, and in the love-feast and prayer-meeting his presence was a benediction. His brethren elected him a delegate to the General Conference of 1856, and again to that of 1860. Father Beach was of fine personal appearance, with a naturally dignified manner, and yet so courteous and genial as to secure the respect and esteem of his associates. In the perfect neatness of his person and apparel he could scarcely have been surpassed by Mr. Wesley. Father Beach lived to a great age, the oldest man save one (according to the record) that has died in New York Conference since its organization. The average age of the ministers who have died in this Conference is about fifty-six years, but this man lived ninety-three and more. We have looked over the record of this long life and find not a single blot. For nearly thirty years he sustained a superannuated relation to the Conference. Probably few have carried into so great age so much of the character and vigor of their meridian manhood. He died in his ninety-fourth year, with memory and with perceptions that man of any age might covet.

WILLIAM F. HATFIELD, D.D., was born in Scarsdale, N. Y., on June 5, 1834, and died in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 7, 1890. In the spring of 1862 he was received on probation in the New York East Annual Conference, and appointed to the Nathan Bangs Methodist Episcopal Church, Brooklyn, and while pastor of that church was married to Miss Emma B. Kellom, who survives him. In 1864 Brother Hatfield was appointed to Port Chester, and three years after to Greenwich; then to Danbury. In 1873 he was transferred to the New York Conference and stationed at White Plains, only a few miles from the home of his childhood; then Eighteenth Street, and in 1879 Washington Square. These nineteen years of continued service in important churches told somewhat on his not very vigorous physical condition, and he asked for a light charge. He was appointed to Claverack. In 1884 he took charge of the Asbury Church in Tarrytown. In 1886 the Washington Street Church, Poughkeepsie, must have another preacher and pastor, and William F. Hatfield was fixed upon as the man. At first it almost seemed that a mistake had been made. Brother Hatfield did not appear strong enough to enter upon the work expected in that large and influential church. Nevertheless he calmly took up his duties with confidence in the promise, "Lo, I am with you alway!" From the beginning of his labors until the close of his life he grew in favor. His congregations also grew until his popularity in that city was established. The General Conference of 1888 extended the pastoral term to five years, and Dr. Hatfield was among the first to reap the results of the new rule. Upon the beginning of the fifth year it was evident that the faithful and laudably ambitious pastor was presuming on his overtaxed energies. His devoted officiary promptly voted him a vacation of three months. But his strength was exhausted. A sickness that was supposed to be but temporary confined him to the house for a few days, and just when family and friends were anticipating recovery the lamp of life went suddenly out. Brother Hatfield was an excellent preacher. His sermons were scholarly, interesting, instructive, and orthodox. He had the faculty of drawing a congregation and keeping it. He was particularly popular with the young people. He was naturally of a very amiable disposition, and very tender in his regard for the sick and dying. Seldom in his public ministration did he fail to offer prayer in their behalf.

THOMAS A. KENNEY was born in Newburg, N. Y., August 18, 1855, and died at Clintondale, N. Y., August 29, 1890. In 1881 he was admitted to the New York Conference, and appointed to Florida, N. Y. His subsequent appointments were Washingtonville and Salisbury Mills, Bellvale, Glasco, Greenville, Falls Village. In 1885 he was ordained elder by Bishop H. W. Warren. On November 30, 1881, he was married to Miss Emma Deyo, who survives him. Brother Kenney entered upon his last charge at Falls Village in apparent good health and in great hopefulness. In his brief pastorate there he greatly endeared himself to the people. He labored diligently and almost incessantly for four months, when his health began to give way. Thinking that a little rest and change would fully restore him he went to the home from whence he had taken his bride only a few years before, and which proved to be the place from whence he was to be translated to the home of the saints. His decline was rapid, and in four weeks from the time he ceased his labors in the pulpit "he was not, for God took him." The ministry of Brother Kenney was very successful from its beginning to its close, having some fruit on every charge. He was a close student of the word of God, reading some portion of it every day in its original language. He prepared most thoroughly for the pulpit, and preached constantly the great doctrines with deep earnestness and effectiveness. He was superior as a pastor. As he moved among the people he won their hearts. They saw in him a devout servant of God and a personal friend. He finished his work at the early age of thirty-five.

SAMUEL MALLERY KNAPP was born in Hillsdale, N. Y., December 11, 1800. He was licensed to exhort in 1832, and the same year he was received into this Conference. Twenty-seven years were given to the traveling work, when, owing to age and ill health of his wife, he superannuated in 1860. After thirty years of active retirement he died September 5, 1890. A strong character was evidenced when a merchant. Like others of his day, he sold liquors. He became convinced of the wrong, and although friends protested it would ruin his business he deliberately poured his supply on the ground. He delighted in telling how, afterward, God prospered him. Sunday, August 31, he entered fully into the theme presented from "Unto you therefore which believe, He is precious," and in the midst shouted "Glory!"—remarkable because unusual. A few moments later he leaned back in his chair, friends came to his assistance, and he was taken home. A short time before his death he wrote to a friend: "I am enjoying myself in religious feelings and comforts more than at any time in my life. I do not meditate on death, but to be prepared for it." His counsels to his class are well worthy remembrance, as he would say, "Keep looking ahead, brethren," and, "Brethren, let your lights shine: don't try to make them, but let them shine."

WILLIAM HENRY SMITH was born in Roxbury, N. Y., February 10, 1812. In 1839 he was admitted on trial in the New York Conference. His successive appointments were as follows: Prattsville, Coeymans, Durham, Franklin, Middletown, Marbletown, Delhi, Kortright, Monticello, Ellenville, New York City Mission, superannuated and transferred to Troy Conference, missionary for Young Men's Christian Association of Troy, State Street, Troy; New York Conference, Riverdale; Southfield, superannuated, Colchester, superannuated again, Croton, Hamden, Summit, superannuated again. On December 30, 1835, he was married to Miss Harriet M. Sands. As a true helpmeet she stood by his side and nobly sustained him through his whole itinerant life of nearly fifty-five years. Thrice during the period of his active ministry was he compelled by family or personal affliction to ask for a change of relation. His last appointment was among the hardest, and at some seasons of the year the most difficult, to travel in the Conference. Yet without a murmur or an expressed desire from himself or the people for a change for three successive years he gladly accepted it. In May of the third year, while already engaged in extra revival services, he was suddenly stricken with partial paralysis. He partially recovered, but preached but a few times, when he was soon compelled to leave the field for others to reap the harvest. For the last six years of his life he was helpless, and before his final release his articulation became so imperfect at times that he could scarcely be understood. While the last pulse was throbbing, with a look of wonderous surprise he gazed heavenward and saw the parting clouds fade away as his mortal life was ushered into the brightness and glory of immortality. Thus lived and thus died one of whose saintly life and character much might be written. In his person he was tall, erect, and well proportioned, with a countenance fair and beaming with intelligence. His spirit was amiable, and he was remarkable for equanimity of temper and self-possession. He was a man of warm affections, of good common sense, and a sound theologian. He often rose to power in his public ministrations and witnessed many extensive revivals. His ministry was an earnest and successful one.

WILLIAM S. STILLWELL was born in Charlotteville, N. Y., September 28, 1813, and died in Cuba, Mo., November, 1890. He was received on trial in the New York Conference in 1838, and continued effective for thirty-two years, when he was made supernumerary in the spring of 1870 for one year. In 1871 he was made superannuated, and in that relation continued up to the time of his death. The following is a list of his appointments: Plymouth, Middlebury and Watertown, Hamden and Milford, Bloomfield, Wethersfield and Rocky Hill, Amenia, Great Barrington, Bloomingburg, Bedford, White Plains, Putnam Valley, Sharon, Coeyman's Hollow, Greenville, Kiskatom, Falls Village, Spencertown. Brother Stillwell was an able and acceptable preacher, and generally stayed his full term. He was successful in winning souls. He preached the pure Gospel without emasculating it. Brother Stillwell married three times. His last wife and one son survive him.

New England Conference.

ALBERT GOULD was born in East Woodstock, Conn., February 21, 1832, and died at Swampscott, Mass., November 18, 1890. In 1858 he was received on trial in the New England Conference, and successively received fifteen appointments. He had entered upon his work as chaplain at Deer Island Reformatory, and the arrangements for his permanent appointment to that position were to have been completed on the day of his sudden death. Having preached at a revival service at Swampscott on Monday evening, he was returning to Boston the following morning. While waiting at the station the arrival of the train he was suddenly called from earth to heaven. Entering the itinerant ministry under a strong conviction of duty, he accepted appointments to some of the least attractive fields of labor in the Conference with the same cheerfulness with which he later filled some of its most important charges. In these hard fields and in some of the severest trials incident to the itinerant ministry he proved both his own devotion to the cause of Christ and that the heroic spirit is not wanting in the ministry of to-day. Brother Gould was a man of commanding presence, of pleasing address, and of great social attractiveness. His manliness of character and the strength of his friendship bound him strongly to those who commanded his confidence. He loved truth and hated shams. His cultivated and thoughtful mind and sound judgment were devoted to the one work of the Christian ministry. Deliberate in pulpit utterance, he was yet strong and sometimes almost majestic in the fervor and power of his weighty argument, urgent appeal, and persuasive tenderness. His love of music and his rare gift of song were of great service in his ministry. He was wise and judicious in administration, a faithful pastor, and successful in leading many into the fold and training them up in the faith of Christ. He felt that success in the ministry meant the salvation of souls. Faithful to the last, he ceased at once to work and live.

JOHN W. DADMUN was born in Hubbardston, Mass., December 20, 1819, and died in Boston August 6, 1890. He was converted when he was sixteen years of age, and joined the New England Conference June 29, 1842, and was stationed at Ludlow and Jenksville, where his work was greatly blessed. Thus was it early manifest that in entering the ministry he made no mistake. His subsequent appointments were Southampton, South Hadley Falls, Enfield, Ware, Monson, Ipswich, Worthen Street, Lowell; Hausen Street, North Russell Street, Boston; Park Street, Worcester; Roxbury. In 1865 he took a supernumerary relation, being engaged in the work of the Christian Commission with the Army of the Potomac. Thenceforward until his death he was chaplain, superintendent of schools, and director of music of Boston's penal institutions on Deer Island. As a preacher he was not a profound theologian, nor did he claim to be a great sermonizer, but as a speaker he had a fine presence, a most winning manner and mellifluous voice, and if we measure the gospel preacher by results he was surely great. He remained in each appointment the full time allowed by the rules of the Church, thus evincing his popularity with the people. He witnessed conversions in all his appointments, and in some of them extensive and glorious revivals. Revival work was his delight, and he had few equals in revival and camp-meeting services. He compiled and published several books of Christian songs, and was perhaps the pioneer in the publication of the modern evangelistic melodies. All his books were popular and very helpful in the social song service of our churches. Brother Dadmun was married in 1841 to Lucy Ann Smith, who died in April, 1844, leaving one daughter. In 1845 he married Miss Martha Jane Rogers, who survives him. Brother Dadmun was ever on the side of the right in all worthy reforms of the day. In the great antislavery struggle he spoke stirringly, and ever stood true to the cause of the oppressed. He was a man of most genial spirit and gentlemanly manner, and was ever a favorite in society. Those qualities which so eminently fitted him to be successful as a Methodist pastor gave him as chaplain at Deer Island most unqualified success for twenty-five years.

JOHN C. SMITH was born in St. Albans, O., June 4, 1826, and died at West Medway, Mass., April 18, 1890. He joined the New England Conference at Worcester in 1848, was ordained deacon at Boston in 1850, and elder in Chicopee in 1852. The same tireless evangelistic zeal and devout power and success which had marked Brother Smith's earlier years continued to attend him as a Conference itinerant. He lived to fill twenty-one appointments, many of which were leading ones, while all were important, and all were signally blessed through his labors. What a record of prayer and of consecrated toil! For many years Brother Smith had been troubled with some serious affection of the brain, brought on, doubtless, by overwork. At the last session of the New England Conference he took a superannuated relation and repaired to his home in West Medway, where, shortly after, he suddenly died, ceasing thus, literally, at once to work and live.

FRANCIS J. DE LEMOS. [Obituary not received.]

New Hampshire Conference.

SAMUEL BEEDLE was born in Selby, England, December 14, 1811, and died at Hull, Mass., January 8, 1891. He joined the New England Conference at Boston in 1838. His health failing, he returned to England in 1840. Coming again to this country, in 1842 he was re-admitted on trial to the Providence Conference. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Janes in 1844, and elder by Bishop Waugh in 1846. In 1852 he joined the New Hampshire Conference, and remained an honored member of that body until his death. He was married to Miss Mary A. Johnson in England in 1837, who died in 1840. In 1844 he was married to Miss Sarah Jane Loring, of Hull, Mass., who survives him. Brother Beedle's fields of labor were as follows; Southbridge, Pawtucket, Yarmouth Port, West Sandwich, Duxbury, Fair Street, Nantucket; Pleasant Street, New Bedford; Scituate Harbor, Truro, Marshfield, Hingham. At the close of the year he withdrew from the Conference, intending to join the Baptists, having received a call from one of their churches. He finally declined the call and returned to the Methodist Episcopal Church. His subsequent appointments, all in the New Hampshire Conference, were: South Newmarket, Salmon Falls, Keene, Concord, Lebanon, Newmarket, North Salem, Winchester, Marlow, Kingston, Union, Hudson, Rindge, Hillsborough Center, Peterborough, Chichester, Londonderry. From 1875 to 1882 he was supernumerary, and from 1883 until death he was on the superannuated list. But though bodily infirmities multiplied Father Beedle did not spend the eventide of life in idleness. After retiring from the effective ranks he lived in Hull, Mass., the place of his wife's nativity, where for several years he supplied the Methodist Episcopal Church with great acceptability and usefulness. Through his influence a much-needed and very attractive and convenient church edifice was erected there which, as long as it stands, will be a monument to his devotion. Father Beedle greatly loved and diligently studied the Bible. His sermons, both textual and expository, were models in form and comprehensiveness. The direct and practical aim of his sermons and the pathos of his pleasant voice betrayed his yearning love for souls. He was wise, for he was a soul-winner.

REUBEN DEARBORN was born in London, near Concord, February 14, 1809, and died in Salem November 3, 1890. In 1835 he was received on trial in New Hampshire Conference and appointed to the Haverhill Circuit, which included many towns around. In 1838 he was united in marriage with Miss Hannah B. Weare, of Andover. His attachment to the ministry—its personality, its work, and that particular form of it chosen by his Church and known as the itinerancy—was strong and unflagging to the end. Thus, through a course of forty years, he walked the itinerant rounds. He was a member of the General Conference of 1852, when the first strong re-enforcement was given to our episcopacy, and such men as Baker, Simpson, Ames, and Scott were added to it. He was a good man—conservative, but true and faithful to his convictions. He was a good preacher—clear, forcible, instructive, and practical. He was a good pastor—wise as a counselor and faithful as a reprover. His labors were fruitful in the best sense. In many of his charges large numbers were converted by his ministry. He was presiding elder from 1850 to 1856, and was equally a success in this position as every-where else. He was the early and constant friend of our Conference Seminary, being a trustee from the beginning and its first financial agent. But the end drew on. For two years he had been feeble and somewhat failing, yet kept about and attended church. Two days before he died he was taken suddenly ill. He obtained relief in the evening, and was thought to be out of danger. He continued comfortable till the evening of the last day. At this point he failed rapidly. And thus, conscious and firm to the last, our friend and brother yielded up his mortal life and passed on to the immortal state.

CHARLES HENRY LEET died at the home of his parents in North Charlestown, N. H., May 27, 1890. He was born in Claremont, N. H., February 1, 1853. He joined the New Hampshire Conference on trial in 1880 and in full connection in 1882. He was ordained deacon April 11, 1880, at Great Falls by Bishop Andrews, and elder April 13, 1884, at Manchester, by Bishop Hurst. Brother Leet married Edna L. Copeland, of Unity, January 1, 1880. She died September 25, 1884. For his second wife he married Emma M. Griffith, of Lempster, May 25, 1886. His ministerial work was performed in the following charges: Previous to 1876 he labored for a short time in Webster, North Charlestown, West Unity, and Marlborough, a few weeks in each place; then West Unity, Cornish, Contoocook, Gilmanton, East Lempster, Milford, First Church, Salem. From boyhood he was a close student of the word of God. He was a young man of consecrated talents, therefore his departure seemed a great loss, not only to his friends, but also to the Church of his choice. He was a faithful, conscientious preacher and pastor, a man gentle and true.

WILLIAM HEWES, M.D., was born in Boston, Mass., June 21, 1808, and died in Lawrence, Mass., December 17, 1890, in the eighty-third year of his age. At the age of thirty-five he entered the ministry, being received on trial in the New Hampshire Conference in 1843. The Minutes of the Conference give the following appointments since that time: Lisbon, Haverhill, Sandwich Center, East Salisbury, South Newmarket and Exeter, Salem, Suncook, Peterborough, supernumerary, supplying South Newmarket. In 1858 he was made effective and appointed to South Newmarket, Rochester, Kingston, Hudson, Methuen, First Church, Manchester, supernumerary. In 1868 he was again made effective and stationed at Seabrook; chaplain to the seamen on the Isles of Shoals, Raymond, supernumerary, then superannuated till his death. In 1836 he married Sophia A. Fuller, who survives him. Brother Hewes had a peculiar taste for medicine, and having studied the subject thoroughly he became a regular practitioner after his retirement from the active work of the ministry. His home was at Methuen for several years, but the last years of his life were spent in Lawrence, where he died.

GEORGE CLEMENT NOYES was born in Warren, N. H., October 1, 1834, and died in Marlow, N. H., December 19, 1890. He early felt the divine call to the work of the ministry, but for a while he resisted and entered into business. He was married to Miss Addie M. Miles, of Orford, N. H., February 20, 1855. He united with the New Hampshire Conference in April, 1866, and was ordained deacon the same year by Bishop Baker. He was subsequently appointed to Stark and Milan, Milan and Berlin, Groverton, Enfield and Enfield Center, Manchester Center, Main Street, Great Falls; Raymond, Sandwich, Hillsborough Bridge, and Marlow. In all of these charges he served the Church with great fidelity and usefulness. Brother Noyes was a man of varied and well-balanced talents. In his character there was such a blending of radical and conservative elements as gave him a strong individuality. He was modest, yet full of strength and courage; independent in thought and action, yet cautious and prudent. He often spoke strongly and sharply, yet always with love and charity. His strong will was held in check by a sound judgment and a tender conscience. He possessed the happy faculty of using the talents he had with much success. He was an able minister of Christ; a good preacher, a diligent and tender pastor, faithful in all departments of ministerial work. Best of all, he won souls in his ministry. He was especially successful in revival services, and many souls have been brought to Christ through his instrumentality. In the early spring his health began to fail, but not till midsummer did his brethren and dear friends suspect that his disease was mortal. He himself probably knew better than any one else his danger, and he began to express fears that his work was nearly finished. With heroic courage he held to his pulpit till within six weeks of the end. When that was surrendered he sank rapidly. With mind singularly calm and clear, amid great suffering, his precious life wasted away. For several years his brethren and near friends had noticed the deepening of his piety, the perfecting of love through the fullness of the Spirit. He was now ready to be offered.

New York East Conference.

STEPHEN RUSHMORE was born in Hempstead, L. I., July 23, 1817, and died in the place of his birth May 12, 1890. In the year 1841 he was united in marriage to Miss Margaret L. Butler, who survives him. In the Conference sessions Brother Rushmore was one of the silent ones, not having occupied five minutes of the valuable time of the Conference in speech-making. His record is, doubtless, no less valuable on that account; yet he was by no means indifferent to the business of the Conference or the important questions that came before that body, he conscientiously voting according to the light and wisdom given him. In his ministrations he was earnest in manner, sincere, and close in his appeals to saint and sinner. He aimed to reach the conscience more than to please the fancy. We think we speak according to the record when we say he never labored in any church that was not improved by his ministry and administration. Another factor of his success was his pastoral work. He was especially a good pastor. This work he loved and performed to his latest life. In his retired and superannuated days he carried joy and sunshine to many homes in Hempstead, where he resided. In this field his kind and loving heart found scope for its activities. In his intercourse with society he was invariably mild and genial, yet when necessity required he showed the firmness of a good administrator. He was usually successful in avoiding church troubles, or, if they existed, in healing them and restoring confidence. He joined the New York Conference in 1844. He was one of a large class of twenty-three that were received that year. Four of that number are yet living and members of this Conference. In 1846 he was ordained deacon by Bishop Hedding, and in 1848 elder by Bishop Waugh. In that year the New York Conference was divided, and his lot fell in with the New York East, of which he was a member until his death. For forty-seven years he preached the Gospel; thirty-five years he was in the effective ranks. The twelve years of retirement fell but little short of full work, as he responded to the many calls, filling other pulpits than our own with great acceptability and usefulness, and doing loving pastoral work up to within a few days of his death. His Conference appointments were as follows: Newington, East Granby, West Granby, New Britain, Woodbury, Bristol, supernumerary, William Street Mission, Brooklyn; Bridgehampton, Clinton, Southold, Union Place, Eighteenth Street, Brooklyn; Astoria, York Street, Brooklyn; Rockville Center, Flatlands, Orient, Baldwin's, Bay Shore, Wallingford, North Bridge and Seaford, superannuated. It was said on the day of his funeral, "No man has gone from this place for the last fifty years that will be a greater loss to the community than Stephen Rushmore." His final sickness was short and severe, for the waves were rough when he made the crossing. He said but little; it was not necessary. His living testimony was complete, and needed not a dying one.

Asa Bushnell was a devoted, laborious, and efficient itinerant minister for sixteen years, joining the New York Conference in 1825. Eight years he was supernumerary, doing limited but regular circuit work. In 1849 his health utterly failed. During the remainder of his life, for forty-one years, he has been a superannuate of our Conference. He was born at Hartland, Conn., January 25, 1806. In the winter of 1825 he was licensed to preach by the District Local Preachers' Conference of the Rhinebeck District, held at Pittsfield, Mass. In the spring of the same year he was received on trial in the New York Conference. On May 13, 1827, he was ordained deacon at Lansingburg, N. Y., by Bishop Hedding, and on May 17, 1829, was ordained elder in the same place by the same bishop. He was only nineteen when he entered the active ministry, and, for the most part, from the first remained in his appointments to the full extent of constitutional permission. The toils, exposures, and privations incident to a circuit preacher's life, together with the meager support the societies were able to give, made him familiar with sacrifices and exhausting labor. But most cheerfully were they sustained, and gladly would he have continued them in his love for the Master. On December 7, 1828, he was married to Sarah A. Miller, of Hartland, Conn., an intelligent and devout Christian lady, in every way a helpmeet for him. Brother Bushnell was meek, humble, and devout; genial, social, ingenuous; his religious experience bright and even. Only those who knew him most intimately could know how sweet a spirit ruled his life, diffusing a fragrance of such sanctity as made his daily life a sermon and a benediction. He had a tongue of wisdom, and was able to comfort others in any trouble by the comfort wherewith he was comforted of God. He refused to be unhappy—spoke of his dead naturally and cheerfully: "They have only gone a little before me—safely landed on the heavenly shore. I have a blessed hope of meeting them there. In the world I have had tribulation, but, blessed be the Lord, in him I have had peace and rich enjoyment." His heart did not grow old. He was not of those who said, "The former times are better than these." He loved the Methodist Church and all its institutions most devotedly, and never wearied talking of its progress and comparing its condition with what it was when he first entered its ministry. These are his words: "I rejoice that I live to see the success of the Methodist Episcopal Church and to witness the vast enlargement of its borders. I never expected to see it in my day. Truly, it is the Lord's doings." So he fell asleep, aged eighty-four.

Henry M. Livingston, born in New York city March 31, 1858, died in Brooklyn, N. Y., July 9, 1890. At the age of sixteen, after earnest seeking, he came into the "glorious liberty of the children of God," with the conscious witness of the Spirit that he had "passed from death unto life." The light of that divine glory in his soul never left him. His ambition had been to become a physician, but the voice of God within called him to the Christian ministry, and he did not disobey. In April, 1881, Brother Livingston joined the New York East Conference. His fields of labor were: Dixwell Avenue, New Haven; Simsbury, Pacific Street, Brooklyn; Stratford. His work was every-where characterized by strong, abiding success. Without being sensational he was always intensely in earnest. In every appointment souls were converted to Christ and the Church was greatly strengthened. One of his former parishioners, writing at the time of his burial, said: "Brother Livingston was one of the most companionable men I have ever known, a clean-cut gentleman, a pure-minded Christian, and a brilliant preacher. When he was with us the people delighted to hear him, and he upheld the dignity of the Gospel with a master-hand." In the summer of 1889 failing strength compelled him to cease from his labors. He sought rest and recuperation in the mountains, and later in Florida, but to no avail. He sank into the arms of that "rest that remaineth for the people of God." During all of his sufferings his pure, patient soul never once murmured. Near the close of his life he said in conversation with a brother-minister, "I would like to be spared for a little time to preach the glorious Gospel; but I am resigned to the will of God." Again, when asked, "Is that comfort which you have given to others yours now?" he replied, "O, yes, and more and more. O the preciousness of God to me!" And thus, surrounded by father and mother, brother and sister, and loving friends, he passed to be with God.

William J. Robinson was born in New York city August 26, 1822, and died at his home in Good Ground, N. Y., August 1, 1890, in the sixty-eighth year of his age. Converted to God in 1843, a few months before he was twenty-one years of age, he joined the Norfolk Street Church in New York. Believing that God had called him to the work of the ministry, he joined the East Maine Conference in 1852. He labored in Bangor, Belfast, and other places in Maine until 1866, when he was transferred to the Providence Conference, and for two years was pastor in New London. After one supernumerary year he became, in 1869, a member of New York East Conference, and served as an effective pastor, first in Connecticut and afterward in Brooklyn and other parts of Long Island, till his health gave way in 1884. Among us he labored some of the time under great difficulties and with broken health. The last two years of his active service were given to the people among whom he died. Through his energetic labors a neat church was built in Atlanticville, and the church in Good Ground was repaired and beautified at a cost of $1,000, the funds being collected by him. When this work was done his health was gone, and for the last seven years he was an uncomplaining and helpless invalid, a great burden to his patient, half-sick wife and her faithful son. All this time he was as much interested in the Lord's work as before his sickness. The writer visited him in 1889 and found him patiently and even joyously waiting for his heavenly Master's call. His religious experience was of the uniform type, not often rising to great rapture or sinking to deep depression. He always manifested a cheerful spirit, with a fixed principle to serve God. In his family he was amiable and kind. He was exceedingly hospitable, and benevolent beyond his ability. His dignity, kindness, and urbanity of manner were observed by all who knew him.

Joseph Smith was born in Birmingham, England, on the 26th of March, 1818, and died at Bloomfield, Conn., on January 28, 1891. It pleased God to grant our beloved brother seventy-two years and ten months of life upon the earth. During fifty-seven years he was a member of the Church of Christ. He was an active local preacher for twenty-two years and an effective traveling preacher for thirty-three years. About two years ago Brother Smith, in response to a request of Mr. Anson F. Abbott, of Waterbury, wrote the following: "In the spring of the year 1858 the Waterbury Church recommended me to the New York East Conference, and since that time I have labored with that Conference, now over thirty years. For what has been done I would give God all the glory." The character of Brother Smith was built like a city that "lieth four-square." There was a remarkable solidity about him, both mentally and physically, which made the impression of strength, sobriety, and sound judgment. He was like a cube, never off his base, always upright, symmetrical, and strong. There was also a beautiful blending of cheerfulness with his sobriety, like sunlight on a tower or flowering vines on a fortress. We recall his cheerful greetings, the genial and ready smile which spoke for the brotherly heart within, and his honest, kindly words. He possessed unusual mental vigor, and his sermons were always characterized by clear, sound thought, expressed in plain but lucid Saxon English, the whole arranged in faultless preparation and unity. He had the reputation among old parishioners of never preaching a poor sermon. He was in absolute sympathy with the system of theological truth which the fathers of Methodism bequeathed to our Church, and yet there was not a taint of intolerance or narrowness in him. The catalogue of Brother Smith's appointments is as follows: Stepney, Ridgefield, New Britain, East Granby, Clinton, Stratford, Seymour, Redding, Roxbury and Springdale, Southport, Middlefield, Cornwall Bridge and Ellsworth, Bloomfield. The physical cause of our brother's death was pneumonia. His illness lasted about one week.

Sylvester S. Strong, M.D., was born at Ashland, Greene County, N. Y., September 14, 1813, and died at his residence at Saratoga Springs, February 2, 1891, in his seventy-eighth year. In 1833 he joined the New York Conference. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Emory in 1835, and elder by Bishop Hedding in 1837. The records of the Conference show seventeen years of active itinerant work, and that he closed his ministerial labors on the then most prominent charge of his Conference. The following is a list of his Conference appointments: Lee and Lenox, Coeyman's and Durham, Sullivan, New Windsor, Saugerties, Ellenville, Sugar Loaf, Rossville, Broome, Bloomfield, Ridgefield, Allen Street, New York. Infirm health, induced by protracted revival efforts, led him to leave the itinerant work, to which in later years he was wont to refer as the grandest earthly vocation possible to man. In 1836 he married Miss Emma L. Ireland, who survives him. Not least among his many virtues was the fact that he was always the friend of his pastor. For a generation he was a tower of strength upon whom his pastor could depend. By his personal presence, by moral support, by friendly criticism, by financial aid, he made his pastor feel that such a friend was not often to be found. He could well write to his Conference secretary, "I have done what I could for our Church and the cause of Christ." Although for many years accustomed to lead others in his pastoral relation, no man was more ready than he to take his place among those who were being led, and in the midst of pressing professional engagements he could find time to make his presence felt in the official meetings of his church. He was for years president of the board of trustees of his church. He was a man of affairs, thoroughly practical and efficient, and while his position brought him into contact with dreamers and mere hypothetical reformers, by instinct he quietly held aloof from all religious vagaries, and to the close of his professional career held as firmly as ever to the belief that the old Gospel, and that only, is the power of God unto salvation. A man of great urbanity of temper and demeanor, and of great patience, he did sometimes evince impatience toward that spurious gospel which deals in smooth platitudes and overlooks the radical needs of a sin-burdened world. When age had given to his bearing a patriarchal impression he has been known with great modesty to urge his pastors to first probe sin to the core and then to powerfully apply the one remedy of revealed religion. In later years, although his increasing physical infirmities were noticeable, his presence at church remained an inspiration alike to pastor and people. That spectacle of an aged man seated in the aisle near enough to the pulpit to catch, if possible, each word of the message, revered by all who knew him, listening as intently as though the message were new, just as we saw him during his last summer season—that spectacle has been stereotyped upon the memory of hundreds.

Richard D. Kirby was born at Roslyn, L. I., August 20, 1809, and died at Hempstead, March 29, 1891. Converted in early life, he exercised his gifts in prayer and exhortation, in which he developed unusual ability and power. In his conversion he was deeply convinced of the breadth and power of saving grace, and struggled on for the attainment of the fullness of the gospel of peace. He entered the New York Conference in 1846. The following are the appointments he received: Moriches, Good Ground, East Granby, Hitchcockville, Wethersfield, Brookfield, Cornwall and Elsworth, Pousett and Killingworth, Westbrook, Haddam, Trumbull, superannuated. Brother Kirby was gifted with a voice of unusual compass, of which he made full proof in his prayers and preaching. His natural gifts were such as to attract notice and make his preaching at times a power over even highly cultivated minds. During the twenty-seven years of his superannuation Brother Kirby lived in Hempstead, L. I., where he frequently preached with acceptance. There he made many friends, whom he greatly, and by whom he was greatly, esteemed.

Troy Conference.

George C. Bancroft entered into rest Monday morning, June 9, 1890, at his cottage in Ocean Grove, N. J. He was born in Cape May, N. J., May 20, 1814. He was admitted into the New York Conference in 1839. From 1839 until 1843, when he was admitted to full connection and ordained a deacon, he was stationed at Westport, Sugar Loaf, West Point, and Pawlings. In 1845 he was ordained an elder. He continued in New York Conference, serving churches in Millersville, Md., Stockbridge, Windham, Saugerties Circuit, and Colchester. In 1853 he was transferred to Providence Conference, and stationed at Portsmouth, R. I. Here he remained two years, followed by two years at Woonsocket, R. I. In 1857 he took a local relation, for a while editing a paper in Boston, and later working in the interests of seamen. He spent the year 1859 at Chestertown, in Troy Conference, and 1860 and 1861 at Scranton, Pa., within Wyoming Conference, and then was superannuated for two years in the same Conference through illness. In 1864 he returned to Troy Conference, being stationed at Leicester and Salisbury, which were within the district that was separated and added to Vermont Conference. He served the Church at Bristol in 1866-67, and later was at Vergennes and Ferrisburg. The district was afterward returned to Troy Conference, and from 1871 until his death Brother Bancroft was a member of this Conference. He was at Stamford during 1872-73, and a three-years' pastorate at Third Street, Troy, followed, which closed his active work. He assumed a superannuated relation in 1877, which continued until his death. These years, however, were not inactive, but filled with busy, useful labors, aiding his brethren in revival services and preaching a large number of Sabbaths in the year. He was married in 1836 to Miss Henrietta Ash, of Philadelphia, whom he laid in the grave. In 1847 he was married to Caroline J. Orton, of Troy, N. Y.

Charles L. Hagar was born in Middlebury, Vt., in 1821, and died at Crown Point, N. Y., August 28, 1890. He became the subject of saving grace when fifteen years old, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church in Plattsburg. In 1859 he married Miss Elizabeth Anable, of Saratoga. He was received on trial in the Troy Conference in 1848, and appointed as junior preacher to the Beekmantown Circuit. His subsequent appointments were: Jay and Wilmington, Champlain, Westport, Schuylerville, Cadyville and Dannemora, South Plattsburg, Champlain and Rouse's Point, Rouse's Point, West Chazy, chaplain One Hundred and Eighteenth Regiment New York Volunteers, agent American Bible Society. In 1887 he was appointed to his last charge. As a preacher Brother Hagar was justly held in high esteem, the persuasive and winning being characteristic elements of his pulpit work, while his sermons were usually uttered with that spiritual unction that gives efficiency to the preached word. As a pastor he was universally beloved, winning the hearts of saints and sinners alike.

D. T. Elliott was born in Florida, Montgomery County, N. Y., January 13, 1819, and died at Round Lake, Saratoga County, N. Y., April 18, 1891. He was converted at Oneonta, N. Y., at the age of twenty years. He united with the Oneida Conference on trial in 1843, and was received in full in 1845. His appointments were as follows: Otsego, Otsego again, Edmeston, Middlefield, Manlius, Madison; was transferred to Troy Conference, and appointed to Minaville, Seward, Gallupville, Raymertown, Third Street, Troy; supernumerary, West Sand Lake, Vail Avenue, Troy; Brunswick and Millville, Charlton and Glenville, Jonesville, Adams and Cheshire, Mass.; Tomhannock, Cooksborough, superannuated. This was necessitated by a stroke of paralysis, which prostrated both body and mind. Brother Elliott was an evangelist. His appointments were generally accompanied with revivals. He was a very earnest minister, careful in his work, and filled with ambition for the salvation of men. He was prominently connected with the temperance work, both local and general, and was an efficient worker in that cause. Brother Elliott was a good man as we understand good men. He was a successful minister of the Gospel. He has gone to his reward, where we hope to meet him in the morning of the resurrection.

Vermont Conference.

Haynes Porter Cushing passed triumphantly to his reward from his home in East Burke, October 21, 1890. He was born in the town of Burke, Vt., June 10, 1816. He entered the traveling ministry in 1842, and became a member of the Vermont Conference at its formation in 1844. The following is a list of his appointments: Middlesex, Plainfield, Peacham and Barnet, Newberry, Northfield, superannuated, Chelsea, Montpelier, Bradford, Saint Johnsbury, Barton, supernumerary, East Burke, supernumerary, Lyndonville, West Burke, supernumerary, seperannuated. While stationed at Barton, in the most eventful period in the history of the country, he represented that town in the State Legislature. In 1857, and again in 1878, he was elected chaplain of the House of Representatives. Brother Cushing was a man possessing a large heart, a sympathetic nature, and a charitable feeling toward all, and as a result he was beloved and revered by all. People in all stations and conditions of life looked upon him with veneration and regard. His manliness gathered round him friends of every shade of belief. His gentleness made him a hero with the children and the youth. His tenderness called him to the bedside of the sick and to the abode of the aged. As a preacher he stood in the front rank, and was always in demand. Before he had been in the Conference ten years six of the best charges within its bounds requested his appointment. His pulpit was to him a throne of power, from which he dispensed the glad tidings of salvation to the penitent sinner and the consolation of God's promises to the afflicted believer. He was often very eloquent, never dull or uninteresting. Many will ever remember his venerable form, his cheerful countenance, kind words, eloquent, heart-felt prayers, and powerful pleadings. Brother Cushing was married May 30, 1842, to Miss Nancy N. Shaw, of Saint Johnsbury, who died in 1877. In 1879 he married Miss Delia Grace Huntington, of Montpelier, who survives him.

Martin P. Bell was born in Alburg, Vt., October 3, 1832, and died of apoplexy in Craftsbury, Vt., March 16, 1891, aged fifty-eight years. He was converted in 1856, and in 1858 received a license to preach, and took his first work in Eden, under the presiding elder. In the spring of 1860 he joined the Troy Conference, within the boundaries of which he spent the greater part of his ministerial life. He received appointments to the following charges: Ramertown, Wilton, Minaville, Knox, Adamsville, Richmondville, Esperance, North Ferrisburg, Patten's Mills and Hampton, Willistown and Bristol. In 1883, while the Burlington District was within the Vermont Conference, he was appointed to Morrisville and Elmore; at the close of this pastorate he was appointed to West Berkshire and East Franklin, where he remained two years, and was then transferred to the Essex and Jericho charge, and from thence to Craftsbury, where he did his last ministerial work. He was an earnest, fearless, and able preacher, and a God-fearing man. It has been said of him that "every sermon was a gospel temperance sermon." He was positive in his convictions, and opposed every thing he believed to be wrong in principle with all the might he possessed; on the other hand, whatever he thought to be right he defended with all the earnestness of a noble soul. He believed in a full and complete salvation, and proclaimed it wherever he went. On the many charges he served the strong men and women of to-day were led to Christ through his instrumentality. Several young men, converted under his preaching, have entered the ministry and are doing effective work. He was married in 1860 to Mary E. Leach, of West Enosburg, by whom he is survived.

Joseph Gregory Switzer was born June 7, 1848, in the township of Euphemia, Province of Ontario, Canada. He joined the New England Southern Conference in the spring of 1880, and was appointed to South Abington—now Whitman, Mass. He was married in June of this same year to Miss Lucy T. Price, of Philadelphia. Arduous work during these years of study had told seriously upon his constitution, and at the end of only eighteen months in the pastorate he had to give up his work, and during the winter of 1881–82 was very ill at the home of his father-in-law, Mr. Price, in Philadelphia.

In the spring of 1889 he was admitted into this Conference, and was stationed at Bradford. There, as every-where else, he labored far beyond his strength and won the confidence and esteem of all. In 1890 he was re-appointed, but in much poorer health than the year before, for during the winter la grippe had seized upon him, from the effect of which he never recovered, and in the following October he was obliged to resign his work and seek a milder clime. The sheltering home of his father-in-law in Philadelphia again afforded the necessary change. Weak as he was, immediately on his arrival in Philadelphia he accepted an appointment as Moral Instructor of the Eastern State Penitentiary. He continued to hope, indeed, to the very end, and did not cease until death was actually hovering about him. On January 15, 1891, he gently fell asleep, his heroic struggles having reached an end while he was yet in his forty-third year.
